Go Into Marts of Money If You Want to Find "Suckers"

If you seek suckers, hunt them in the haunts of the hard-boiled. More gold bricks are sold in Wall street than were ever peddled in Podunk. It was not in rural Milpitas, but in sophisticated Los Angeles, that two talented conversationalists got $300,000 from movie and automobile magnates, public finance commissioners and similar "hicks," all of them promising to return ten for one whenever they succeeded in merging six billion dollars worth of railroads.

That is where they grow; the hicks—where the white lights glow, the ticker clicks and everybody knows it all. Uncle Reuben reads his farm paper, and is wise. The easy mark is the one who thinks he is smart enough to beat the game. The tough nuts crack quickest.

CHAUNCEY M. DEWEY is 91 years old, and "Uncle Joe" Cannon 89. That is not much, in mere years. Any Galapagos turtle can beat it, several times, and doubtless many men, in many ages, have lived uneventful lives as long, or longer.

But who ever lived 90 such years before?

There were never any 90 years America the pioneer to America in these 90 years, lived them all at the center of the stage or in the boxes. A thousand years, in most of the life of humanity, would have revealed a less varied spectacle.

From a world just recovering from Napoleon to a world just recovering from Kaiserism; from America the pioneer to America the center; from the coach to the airplane, through the whole mechanical and industrial revolution, through the era of most rapid change of human contacts and transformation of human life, these two men, in their respective ways played their large and active parts.

Of much of their era, they are almost the only important survivors. May they live to enjoy the spectacle through a whole rounded century!

THE same day come reports that France considers turning over half its Dawes plan receipts to its creditors, and that there may be no such receipts. Half of zero is zero, and we would continue to get exactly what we have been receiving.

Of course, it may not turn out to be so bad. At least a considerable part of the Dawes plan payments will be turned in to the Allied collector.

The difficulty is in finding a way to turn them out, in francs, pounds or dollars, for France or its creditors. That can be done only to the extent of the export trade balance of Germany, which is, so far, unsatisfactory.

Doubts, in the time, that balance will improve, Germany will export more goods to America than it buys of us, buy francs with the dollars it receives for the difference, and pay France.

Then, if it is good, France may pay us back one day, or those dollars. So we shall be paid, in part, by the familiar process of paying it ourselves.

ONCE more comes a widely published "refutation" of the argument that these foreign debts can be paid only in goods. We sell more to Europe than Europe sells to us. And yet Europe, with no exportable money to do it with, somehow pays.

The explanation is that, besides importing goods, we export money. Some of it we loan, to be invested abroad; some of it we give, in immigrants' remittances to relatives; but most of it we spend in freight, in foreign ships, and in the expenditures of American tourists abroad. So we may be paid back, still in our own money, but not all in money that we paid for imported goods.

This proves only that "goods" must be taken to include services, and to cover goods and services to Americans abroad, as well as to those at home. There are "invisible" as well as visible exports and imports. It refutes only too narrow a use of the word.

But the conclusion still remains. Europe can pay us only in our own money, which we have first paid Europe for something, or sent as a gift.

Including the invisible with the visible exchanges, Europe can pay us only in kind, by selling us, in goods or services, delivered to our people, for our money in America or in Europe, more than we sell to Europe. International debts can be paid in money only to the extent that they are first paid in something else. To whatever extent we are unwilling to be paid in this way, we are forbidding ourselves to be paid at all.

Haney to Continue On Shipping Board

Will Fight Ford on U.S. Ship Purchase

AUTO MAKER WOULD BUY 400 VESSELS

Detroit Manufacturer Is Ready to Take Government Boats If Price Right AT ONLY JUNK VALUE

Member of Board Sees No Reason For Nation Disposing of Merchantmen

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Opposition to the plan negotiated by Chairman O'Connor, of the shipping board, to sell 400 idle government merchant ships to Henry Ford at their junk value, was expressed here today.

Though uninformed as to the terms of the O'Connor-Ford proposal, several members of the shipping board were doubtful as to whether it would be approved when submitted to the whole board.

"It would be greatly to the marine interests of the foreign nations for the United States to destroy one-third of its fleet," declared Commissioner Thompson, of the shipping board. "As yet, I have seen no sound reasons advanced why the United States, of all nations, should weaken its naval auxiliary and economic position in world trade and stand alone in a program to remove surplus ship tonnage."

FORD WILL BUY IF PRICE IS RIGHT

DETROIT, Mich., May 14.—If given the right price, Henry Ford will purchase 400 steel vessels of the U. S. shipping board that are now rusting at their docks, junking the majority of them and hoping to salvage from 10 to 30 for his own use.

This statement was made by Ford Wednesday evening, following a visit earlier this week to Dearborn by T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board. During the visit, O'Connor broached the subject to the motor king of his taking a block of 200 ships from the fleet of more than 1200 which the government owns.

Difficulties in Sale

As there are several difficulties confronting the sale, it probably will be a matter of several months before it is settled, it was indicated.

O'Connor told Ford, in making the offer, that he thought it would be a form of patriotism for the manufacturer to buy 200 of the vessels. Ford indicated that he thought a good way to spell patriotism was with "p-a-y" and said, due to the extra expense of special machinery to junk them, he could not "afford" to buy 200, but he might be interested in 400.

Three Ships Already Bought

"You know, we already have purchased three old shipping board vessels to pioneer with," Ford said. "We've a pretty good understanding of their limitations."

"The majority of the ships now rusting at their docks were built during the war when everyone was crazy for speed. They are too small for practical use, being 3000 to 5000 tonners. Our use calls for 10,000 to 15,000 ton vessels."

"In addition," the manufacturer continued, "the boats were badly thrown together and still others have engines of no use whatsoever. We would have to recondition any we might find of use almost entirely. The price would have to be based on the fleet's junk value."

Outlines Aims at P.-T. A. Conference

FRESNO, May 14.—Reports of state chairmen, addresses on pertinent topics and entertainment features were on schedule today for the 26th annual convention of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, in session here.

With 125,000 members enrolled, the aim of the association is 150,000 members by the end of the year, Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president, told the convention. Last year the membership was but 79,000.

The convention yesterday adopted resolutions against the display of the newstands of magazines declared to be obscene.

Babe at Farm Dead of Broken Skull

NEW YORK, May 14.—A fractured skull caused the death of William Winters, 1-month-old baby boarder at Mrs. Helen Geisen-Volk's baby farm, Dr. Otto H. Schulz, medical expert who performed an autopsy on the body, announced today. The death certificate gave heart failure as the cause of death. The report of Dr. Schulz again placed Mrs. Geisen-Volk in the shadow of serious charges. Forty-four babies entrusted to her care died, board of health records show.

3 ARE KILLED IN PASSENGER TRAIN WRECK

MARSHALL, Ill., May 14.—Three men were killed and four seriously injured when Pennsylvania passenger train No. 6, running from St. Louis to New York, was wrecked near here today. The train was running as a double header.

Both engines and six cars crashed over on their sides, a mail car piling on one of the engines. The wreck was believed due to some fault in a switch. Both engineers and one fireman were killed.

The four injured were a fireman, two mail clerks and an expressman.

MUZZLING OF U. S. OFFICERS SCORED

SAN BERNARDINO, May 14.—The war department's alleged policy of "muzzling" its army and navy officials was scored by W. B. Shearer, prominent national defense authority, in an address here to the grand parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

"Officers of the U. S. army and navy should be allowed to tell the true conditions of both services," Shearer declared. "Political interference prevents us from having adequate national defense policy."

Shearer said the world court would be useless "because Great Britain and Japan will never disarm." "Treaties, Leagues of Nations, world courts or anything else will never succeed in disarming Great Britain or Japan," he said.

The delegates spent most of the day sightseeing in the San Bernardino valley. Business sessions will be resumed tomorrow, concluding with election of officers.

Fletcher A. Cutler, Burlingame, will be the new grand president, being the only candidate.

The annual banquet of the Native Sons will be held tonight. Approximately 1,000 delegates are attending the annual conference.

LAND CARGO OF BOOZE AT L. A. HARBOR

Liquor Worth Nearly Million Dollars Put Ashore By Fleet of Six Vessels

MARKET PRICE DROPS

Flooding Market In Southern California Causes $20 Decline In Retail Cost By Case

SAN PEDRO, May 14.—The rum fleet of six vessels plying in Southern California waters has landed nearly a million dollars' worth of its illicit cargo at this harbor, prohibition officials declared today.

Approximately 15,000 cases of liquor were unloaded during the night, it was said, the rum runners eluding both hi-jackers and dry patrols operating in Southern California's rum row.

The bulk of the cargoes consisted of Scotch whiskey, it was said, one bootlegging syndicate alone landing 7500 cases.

The liquors were valued at $30 a case, shipside. Retail prices at consuming centers dropped from $75 to $55 a case today, with a flat rate of from $45 to $55 in 10-case lots.

Local police, acting on information received from federal prohibition headquarters, started a search today for 30 Los Angeles business men, said to have been the financial backers of the rum ring which landed the huge cargoes.

Four suspects have already been arrested, it was announced, and would be taken before the federal grand jury, which has been asked to investigate the Los Angeles liquor combine.

ROUND UP BOOZE IN LOS ANGELES RAIDS

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Approximately $100,000 worth of liquor was rounded up by police and federal dry agents in a series of spectacular raids here today.

Fifteen alleged bootleg establishments were raided by the dry squadrons, and their owners were placed under arrest. The dry officers said they had "spotted" considerable more liquor, which would be seized also.

CARLOAD OF GAS FLOODS RAIL YARD

PASADENA, May 14.—Train traffic was demoralized, and a cordon of 50 police thrown around the Santa Fe station here today, when a tank car containing 10,000 gallons of gasoline sprung a leak and the yards were deluged with inflammable oil.

More than 5000 gallons of the dangerous liquid had escaped early this afternoon, and it continued running out at a steady flow. A broken valve started the deluge when the gas car was switched to a siding. Efforts to check the flow had been unavailing early this afternoon.

Two passenger trains were marooned on the outskirts of the yards. Traffic will probably not be resumed until late today, when the tank car has been entirely emptied and its contents drained from the right-of-way.

Police and trainmen dug trenches to divert the flow, and established a picket around the station to keep the crowds away.

Threaten P. E. Crew After Motor Crash

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—An angry crowd threatened to mob the crew of a Pacific Electric interurban today, after the trolley crashed into an automobile driven by Philip M. Stone, of Pasadena. Stone's machine was completely wrecked, but he escaped with minor bruises. The crash occurred in the main business section.

The motorman and two conductors deserted their cars and fled for reinforcements when the crowd gathered around them. When they returned with other trainmen, deputy sheriffs had quieted the crowd.

NO POMP AS ROCKEFELLER GIRL MARRIES

Vivacious Heiress to Biggest Fortune In World Is Bride of Young Attorney

NOBILITY IS REJECTED

Abby Prefers Struggling American to Dukes and Earls and Such Things

NEW YORK, May 14.—Abby Rockefeller, vivacious heiress to perhaps the world's greatest fortune, married the man of her choice at 4:30 this afternoon, the culmination of a romance which all the untold millions of her father and grandfather did not prevent.

She who could have had a choice of dukes and earls and such things as girlish dreams sometimes are made, elected to become Mrs. David Milner, son of a most respectable young man who earns quite a modest livelihood. The wedding in the Rockefeller mansion, just off Fifth avenue, was as quiet and unostentatious as is possible under the circumstances of such fabulous wealth as the very name of Rockefeller conjures up.

Will Live in Apartment.

And when they return from an European honeymoon, they will live in a comparatively small apartment around the corner, near Park avenue.

Less than half a hundred relatives of the bride and bridegroom, including John D. Rockefeller Sr., were present when the Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelflin, pastor of the Rockefeller family church, pronounced the words of the Baptist marriage ceremony.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave away the bride. Virtually no one except relatives had been invited, and the bride had but one attendant, Miss Ellen Milton, sister of the bridegroom.

The Rockefeller mansion was Abby loves were there in profusion. Otherwise there were no special decorations.

No Movie Man on Job.

"The movie man," seemingly inevitable appendage to most modern functions, however, social or private, was among those missing this afternoon. There was no odoriferous booming of flashlights in the Rockefeller home.

Abby Rockefeller, excited as any bride over her gown, remained at home all day. She and Miss Milton were busy with last-minute preparations.

Outside the Rockefeller mansion, watchmen and specially detailed police pounded the pavement in an unbroken cordon against the possibility of intrusion. A constant stream of delivery wagons from florists, jewelers, caterers and gift shops drew up, halted for a moment at the delivery entrance, and drove on. Footmen in livery came in limousines with presents for the bride. Messenger boys actually hurried with telegrams and letters of congratulations.

Ceremony in Ball Room

The ceremony this afternoon was performed in the large ball room on the second floor of the Rockefeller home, in a setting of floral decorations chosen by Abby herself. She also arranged the curtain of smilax behind the altar and the blooms of gay fuchsia, pink rose trees and small yellow callas.

For Abby is an outdoor girl. The bride and bridegroom made a striking couple. Abby is vivacious and handsome, with an abundance of good looks from her mother's side of the family.

"Dave" Milton is taller than his bride, with large dark eyes and wavy dark hair, worthy of the young man who is capturing the Rockefeller heiress in a real love match.

The young man's income as a lawyer at the moment is something around $15,000, slightly more, according to Abby, than she herself intends to put in to help out the family budget. Some system of all-livances within the Rockefeller family makes her annual contribution around $3000.

But, of course, some day—

Widow's Plea For Bootleg Justice Granted

ELLENBURG, Wn., May 14.—A jury heard a woman's plea for justice against alleged moonshine distillers here yesterday and returned a verdict of $10,000 damages because her husband drank the stuff until he lost his business, family and finally his life. Mrs. Glenna Karterman, wife of a former jeweler of Cle Elum, Wn., brought the suit against nine men, all well known in Cle Elum. She asked $40,000 damages, charging the nine had given and sold her husband moonshine and wines until he died a victim of alcohol.

TWO CONVICTS IN MAD RACE AT SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—Wearing a zig-zag trail through this city, which carried them within a few blocks of the police and sheriff's offices and directly in front of the state capitol, in a stolen automobile, Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, youthful escaped murderers, today were making a desperate effort to retain their freedom.

Today's developments in one of the most spectacular and thrilling man hunts waged since the escapades of the notorious Roy Gardner, started at Auburn where the bandits were believed to have been trapped by Placer county posse.

Eluding these posess during the night, the youths entered the home of Paul Pherault, two miles above Auburn, on the Grass Valley road, and, after tying Pherault and his wife to their beds, escaped in their automobile.

Discovered by Neighbor.

A neighbor discovered the plight of the couple when he went to say hello to the man's aid in the search for the desperadoes and reported it immediately to Sheriff Elmer Gum.

A few hours later, Pherault's car was wrecked by the bandits when it collided with another near the Sacramento county hospital, two miles from town. Hospital attendants reported to police and nearly 50 officers were rushed to the scene.

Fleeing across the hospital grounds, the gunmen forced H. Hansen, a gas maker, to drive them about the city in his automobile. The intersection of Thirteenth and G streets, Hansen's car ran down a woman.

When Hansen asked to stop and render assistance to the woman, one of the youths increased the pressure of the pistol against his back and declared: "If you stop, we'll shoot you."

This was but five blocks from the police station and sheriff's office. Several blocks further down Thirteenth street, Hansen was thrown from the car and one of the bandits took the wheel.

They drove toward the state capitol building and disappeared from Hansen's view as they turned a corner directly in front of the state offices.

Hansen reported immediately to police and a riot call was sent out. A shotgun squad of 20 men was sent to pick up the bandits' trail, which was lost in the heavy traffic.

Hansen definitely identified his kidnapers as Tanko and Hall from pictures furnished him at police headquarters. One of the men carried a rifle and the other a pistol, he stated.

Armored police cars were brought into play when Hansen's first report was made, but proved of little value in the heavy traffic despite their speed.

Organization to War 'Movie Trust' Will Be Formed

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 14.—A solid independent organization of moving picture producers, distributors and exhibitors, will have been formed before the convention of movie men closes here today, it was made known today.

Following morning meetings of the board of directors of both the producers and distributors and the exhibitors' organizations, it was announced that plans have been completed for a nation-wide fight against the "big three"—Metro-Goldwyn, Famous Players and First National—and that there was little doubt over acceptance of the plan.

An air of expectation hung over the delegates today when a rumor that Will Hays, "czar of the movies," would be in Milwaukee to speak in behalf of the opposition, was circulated.

Under command of General Colombat, the French left wing swung forward north of the Querghs, between Outragh and Taffatabrant. The attack developed, excellently, and the French met with success all along the line.

Riffian tribesmen were driven back to a prepared line of trenches in the hills, where stubborn resistance is expected.

Editor Tells of Talks on Pardon

TOPEKA, Kas., May 14.—Details of conversations between Dick Smith, managing editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post, and former Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, in which the matter of pardons was discussed, were given by Smith at today's session of Davis' trial on a charge of soliciting a bribe for a pardon for Walter Grundy, convict.

The Journal-Post exposed the alleged pardon scandal by trapping Russell Davis, the former governor's son, in a hotel room in Topeka, where it is alleged Davis accepted $1250 from Fred Pollman to secure a final pardon for Pollman, who was sent to prison for forgery.

Smith and reporters for the newspaper were in an adjoining room and claim to have entered the room as Pollman, who was co-operating with the newspaper in the investigation, handed young Davis the money. The arrests and charges followed the exposure.

WOMAN SHIRKS OATH BECAUSE OF DECALOGUE

Will a simple affirmation be accepted in lieu of a regular oath when the oath of allegiance to the United States is required from a person holding public office? This was the question that presented itself today to county school authorities when the application of Miss Myrtle Leva Howson, 511 North Olive street, Anaheim, for a teacher's life diploma, came up for consideration.

The granting of such diplomas by the state board of education is conditional on taking the required oath of allegiance to the United States. Apparently Miss Howson does not believe in swearing for reasons set forth in the Ten Commandments for when required to raise her hand and repeat the words, "So help me God," she hesitated. After explaining how she felt about taking oaths, she was allowed to substitute the word "affirm" for "swear."

Inquiries made this morning elicited the information that the California laws, in deference to the religious scruples entertained by certain persons against swearing, allow an affirmation in place of the regular oath. It was pointed out that such procedure does not relieve a person of legal responsibility found that there has been any willful misrepresentation.

The following teachers, having completed prescribed requirements, were recommended for life diplomas by the county board of education:

Julia Lynn, Orange; Myrtle Leva Howson, Anaheim; H. G. Nelson, Santa Ana; Glenn Hadley Lewis, Fullerton; Verne Elizabeth Wells, Santa Ana; Herman Wells Goodwin, Orange; Grace Barlow, Orange; Esther M. Guy, James Gordon Betts, Huntington Beach; Lela McClurkin Betts, Huntington Beach.

Obesity, or fatness, in women is now stated by a medical expert to be, in most cases, as much a malady as rheumatism or eczema.

C. F. Roberts, Bakersfield, was elected commander of the veterans.

Percy B. Church was appointed deputy judge advocate and Max Baruth Sawtelle, department historian.

The Ocean Park meeting brought thousands of veterans and members of the auxiliary from all parts of the state. A number of Santa Ana people were in attendance.

COUNTY HEADS STATE LIST IN CONVICTIONS

By securing 42 convictions, against six acquittals, during 1924, the district attorney's office of Orange county led all prosecutors of California in the matter of successful felony prosecutions, according to newly published "efficiency" statistics covering all counties with sufficient volume of cases to provide a basis of comparison. The statistics are compiled by the state.

Among counties having 30 or more cases during the year, five southern counties occupied the first five places in the percentage column, Orange county heading the entire list with 87.5 per cent of its criminal trials resulting in convictions.

The defendant whom District Attorney A. P. Nelson charged with a crime was shown to have hardly more than one chance in 10 to go free. The proportion of convictions was nearly nine out of 10 cases.

San Diego county was next in line with 83.9 per cent of its cases resulting in conviction. Riverside county was a close third with 83.3. San Bernardino county was fourth with 74.3 per cent. The Los Angeles district attorney convicted 71.4 per cent of that county's defendants who went to trial.

A northern county, Sacramento, was in sixth place, with 71.3 per cent. Imperial county was in 10th position with 65 per cent. San Francisco and Alameda, the two bay counties, each duplicated the other's record for the year, with 60.8 per cent.

San Francisco county had more criminal trials than any county in the state, the total being 1050, as compared to 865, the Los Angeles county total. Sacramento county had 278, Alameda county, 166, and San Diego county, 131. Only 13 of the 57 counties had as many as 30 trials during the year, such populous counties as Santa Clara, with the cities of San Jose and Santa Clara, San Joaquin, with the city of Stockton, Kern, Santa Barbara and others failing to produce that number.

Following are the 13 counties and their record:

County	Convictions	Acquittals	Per Cent
Orange	42	6	87.5
San Diego	110	21	83.9
Riverside	50	10	83.3
San Bernardino	26	9	74.3

Stanislaus	27	11	71
Mendocino	21	9	70
Fresno	72	34	67.9
Imperial	39	21	65
San Francisco	411	163	60.8

U. S. Home Will Be Sent to Paris

NEW YORK, May 14—A model American home of 10 rooms and three baths, built and completely furnished in New York, will be shipped to France and set up in the Grand Palais at Paris as a part of the American section of the International Exhibition of Household and Labor Devices, October 11 to November 15. The decision to send a model American home to Paris was made as a result of the report of Albert Broisat, general commissioner of the national office of industrial research and inventions, that French women have heard so much of the comforts of American homes, particularly of the modern American kitchen and laundry, they are beginning to demand American house furnishings, household appliances, and labor saving devices.

Seek $500 Judgment

Judgment for $500 against the McKay Engineering company was asked today in a superior court action filed by S. E. Talbert, contractor.

Talbert makes the county of Orange and the board of supervisors, including his brother, Chairman T. B. Talbert, defendants in the suit, but his claim is directly against the McKay Engineering company, which he claims owes him $500 in connection with county work.

Talbert alleges that the engineering company engaged him to unload bridge iron at Santiago station, for an agreed price of $500. Before the work was completed, the company notified him to halt operations until notified to proceed, he stated. He was never notified to proceed and the engineering company later completed the unloading itself and now refuses to pay him, Talbert claims.

The county is joined as defendant in the action in order that Talbert can secure an order holding up by the county certain money said to be due the engineering company.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiff.

Orange Girl, Hurt In Crash, Slightly Better

A slight change for the better was noted today in the condition of Marjorie Haines, Orange girl, who lies in a critical condition at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, as the result of severe injuries to the head suffered last Thursday night, when three of her companions were killed at the Pacific Electric crossing on West Seventeenth street.

The Haines girl has never regained consciousness, nurses reported today, but her pulse is better, indicating her condition is slightly improved, they said.

No change in the condition of Charles Ring, Santa Ana boy, who suffered a fracture of the skull in the same accident, was noted at the Orange County hospital, where he is under treatment. Ring is only partially conscious, and his condition is still considered critical.

John Mon, 12-year-old Bolsa boy, who was seriously injured Tuesday night, when he was struck by an automobile driven by O. M. Harrison, Santa Ana, on the highway near Bolsa, is bravely battling for life at the Orange County hospital.

Although his condition is precarious, the boy is conscious and has talked freely with doctors. Physicians hold little hope for his recovery.

The youth is suffering from one of the worst cases of skull fracture seen at the local hospital in several months, it is declared.

By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

ENGLISHMEN CALL IT "JUMPER"

Darksome at its best and dismal at its worst, men's dress has need of every touch of bright color that can be borrowed to give it crisp character and positive personality. As town clothes are traditionally set and stodgy, it is chiefly to the sporting turnout that one must look for the colorful and the picturesque—a sort of Joseph's coat of outdoors with trimmings by gay Mrs. Potpourri. Knitted jackets, jumpers or jerseys are taking on rainbow brilliancy as the use of contrast becomes better understood and as club, college and school colors assume a wider vogue than ever before. Instead of the usual straight and rather formless knitted jacket, those of today are snug-fitting and figure-flexing; light enough to be cool, if required, and warm enough to be protective, if desired. Indeed, the sweater, to call it by its democratic name, has become an important and permanent part of modern men's dress, changing with the seasons like hats or cravats.

The pull-over garment without sleeves and having the low-cut V-neck effect is, perhaps, the type most favored. However, some men prefer the sleeved sweater as, being warmer, it has more uses, particularly where the climate even in summer is variable, blowing hot and cold by turns. If you acquire but one sweater, choose it with sleeves. If you possess several—and every man is well repaid to have them—select the sleeved sweater of the sort illustrated here, though, of course pattern and color are a matter of individual whim.

Besides the familiar V-neck style, you will see both the round and the squarish front opening. These, however, are not becoming to many wearers, because they do not give a long line from the neck downward as the V effect does. The pull-over garment should not be worn by men inclined to flesh. It accentuates their stoutness. They are better advised to select the sweater that buttons down the front; what is termed the cardigan style.

Heather intermixtures, Lovat shades, dice and mosaic designs, crisscross effects, checks, plaids, Jacquard treatments, even Tartans are just a handful of the colors and effects which are procurable in sweaters. They should, preferably, tally with one's golf stockings, which is why they are usually offered to match. A really fine knitted jacket cannot be obtained for fiddler's pence. It is not so much a purchase as a possession and must command a price the proportion to its worth and workmanship. Buy the best and skip the rest.

FAILS TO GET JUDGMENT FOR DAMAGED TREES

Failing to prove that an orange grove at Anaheim, which he secured in an exchange for a Long Beach apartment house, had been damaged by lack of irrigation, rather than by a desert wind, as its late owner contended, George Finch of Long Beach, was denied a damage award in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court late yesterday.

The court, however, allowed Finch judgment of $47.65, which represented the amount of a bill for irrigation water, which the farmer owner had left unpaid.

Finch had asked $2500 damages for the alleged loss of 33 trees, which he claimed had been allowed to die through neglect of irrigation by Theodore Roberts, Anaheim theater owner, who traded the grove to Finch. This alleged neglect was said to have occurred while the deal was in escrow in March, 1923. Neither Roberts or Finch now own the grove, Finch having since resold it.

At the trial yesterday the case hinged upon testimony of A. C. Schultz, caretaker of the ranch under Roberts' ownership. Schultz said that the ranch had been irrigated regularly and that the trees on a portion of the ranch, where the soil was shallow, had suffered some damage from an unusually severe desert wind, but quickly recovered.

Attorney Jud Rush of Los Angeles, represented Roberts in the proceedings. Partridge and Kemp appeared for Finch.

MEXICANS HAVE ENOUGH OF WAR. LIVE IN PEACE

After years of strife and armed conflict among themselves, the Mexican people have had enough of fighting and revolutionary propaganda, and now they desire to live in peace and devote their energies toward development of the country. This is the word brought to Santa Ana by Dr. F. B. Huston, a New York physician who is registered at Hotel Rossmore. Dr. Huston is on his way back to New York after an extended trip throughout South and Central America.

"Social, industrial and economic conditions of Mexico have enormously improved in the last few years," said Dr. Huston. "There is plenty of money in the eastern part of Mexico and the financial stability of the country is more secure than might be expected."

People Better Dressed.
"All classes of people, and particularly wage-earners, dress better than ever before, and there is plenty of evidence of wealth and prosperity."

"What strikes the American visitor as he enters Mexico City is the large number of high-priced automobiles of foreign make seen on the streets, mostly French and Italian."

In this connection, Dr. Huston intimated that there is lack of initiative on the part of American automobile dealers in securing their share of the automobile business in Mexico.

He added that his observation regarding lack of initiative on part of American automobile dealers, applies with equal force to other lines of business. While American business houses are assuming an indifferent, catch-as-catch-can attitude toward building up business in the southern republic, their British, French, Italian and Scandinavian competitors are securing fat orders.

No Animosity Toward U. S.
While there is no general feeling of animosity against Americans in Mexico, it is important, however, that American trade representatives and salesmen should be carefully picked men, selected because of their knowledge of the language and customs of the country. It is also essential that they should be able to cultivate social relations with their prospective customers, and be in sympathy with the aims and aspirations of the Mexican people.

In conclusion, Dr. Huston paid his respects to President Calles who, in addition to promoting economic development, is also giving his attention to the welfare of the common people. Dr. Huston said, under Calles' administration, great effort is being made to eliminate illiteracy, and educational facilities are being extended to the most remote corners of the republic.

BUSY SESSION SCHEDULED FOR LOCAL LEGION

Much business is scheduled for the semi-monthly meeting of Santa Ana post No. 1317 American Legion, to be held in the Legion hall tonight, at 8 o'clock.

Members of the women's auxiliary have been invited to attend the meeting, at which there will be speakers of state-wide prominence in American Legion circles. Herbert Wilson, Los Angeles legionaire, and Mrs. B. B. Marks, past president of the Women's auxiliary for the Department of California, are scheduled to give addresses on the importance of the $5,000,000 down fund drive, now being conducted in California.

The fund is to be used solely for rehabilitation of disabled ex-service men who do not draw compensation from the government, and to handle the ever-growing list of orphans of World War veterans.

Scheduled for tonight's meeting is the actual start of the annual membership drive for the post. Each member of the legion has been assigned to one of 10 teams, which will vie for honors in securing new members. Final instructions will be given tonight by Wilbur Getty, post commander.

Captains have been appointed to lead the membership drive, and indications point to at least 100 new members before the contest comes to a close on June 1.

Commander Getty expects the drive to be the most successful in the history of the post. A "feed" will be another part of tonight's program, and special entertainment for the benefit of the auxiliary has been provided. The entertainment committee for tonight's meeting is composed of J. Ogden Markel, Noble Watson and Elmer Erickson.

NOV DOES ALL HER WORK

Has No Backache, No Bad Feelings Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Drove Her Illness Away

Milwaukee, Wisconsin. — "I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was surely the right thing for me. I took four bottles then and in the fall of the year I took three. I had been treated by a doctor but he gave me an iron tonic and that did not help me. It seemed that the tonic did not have in it what the Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 113 now and I was only 105 before I began." — Mrs. EMIL O. BRANDENBURG, 651 37th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

The Tuthills Greet Friendly Group at Smart Dinner

Recognizing the peculiar charm of the Ebbl club and the adaptability of the spacious lounge to entertaining, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill last night staged a delightful function there when they entertained at dinner and bridge.

Flowers were used in lavish profusion, and Mrs. Tuthill's friends who ravaged their gardens that she might have a wealth of bloom, also aided in the artistic arrangement of the blossoms. Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Mrs. Leonard Swales and Mrs. Earl Morrow were the thoughtful ones who aided in such a friendly manner. And the result was truly beautiful declared all the guests gathered for the event.

Thirteen tables were arranged, each with its low bowl of posies in variety of color and bloom. No place cards were used, for Mrs. Tuthill had evolved a truly unique scheme for selection of dinner partners. To each man was given the first name of one of the female guests, and the pleasant duty of seeking the bearer of that name who thus became his dinner vis-a-vis and first partner at bridge. It was remarked that in the entire group there were but two duplicate names. Mrs. Earl Morrow and Mrs. A. W. Rutan each having been christened Mabel.

The delicious dinner menu was served in four courses and after the demitasses, the tables were cleared, card tables covered and adjusted and the diversion of the evening introduced. Half a dozen prizes were awarded, Mrs. J. N. Harding, Mrs. Earl Morrow and Mrs. W. L. Deimling carrying off honors among the woman players, the first two scoring high and second and the latter taking consolation.

Dr. John I. Clark proved most skillful among the gentlemen with H. G. Kinyon second and C. Kinyon scoring low.

Asked to enjoy the pleasant hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Tuthill and the attractive surroundings of the Ebbl club were Messrs. and Mesdames George Briggs, Ray Chandler, Hubert H. Dale, Charles V. Davis, William L. Deimling, O. H. Egge, F. E. Farnsworth, J. E. Gervey, H. G. Heister, C. Duane Holmes, William H. Kendall, C. P. Kinyon, Earl S. Morrow, Ralph Mosher, J. Fred Parsons, J. Parsons, Parke Roper, F. C. Rowland, A. W. Rutan, Terry E. Stephenson, Leonard G. Swales, Howard Timmons, W. B. Williams, Archie V. Herr, J. N. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. John I. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. E. Paul, Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Patton and Mrs. Addie Collins.

Rainbow Circle Girls Entertain Mothers

Honoring her mother as guest of the evening, each young girl of the Rainbow Circle class of the First Christian Sunday school aided in making the party given at the church Tuesday evening, one of the most successful Mothers' day celebrations of the week.

As entertainment features, Miss Eva Turton sweetly sang of "Mother's Love," Miss Lizetta Phillips and Mrs. Jack Kahler, (Glenda Mae Waggoner) rendered two pretty piano duets and Miss Etta Conkle sang a lovely song group which included one of the "Madam Butterfly" lyrics and "A Little Bit of Honey."

Community Players

Tomorrow is the final day for making reservations to join Santa Ana Community Players in attending the first play ("The Amethyst") which the Pasadena Community Players are presenting in their new Playhouse, today declared Mrs. Maurice Enderle, secretary of the local players. Mrs. Enderle reminded patrons that they were to call Arthur Collins at the Taylor cannery (917) and make their reservations through him. He will telephone the number to Gilmer Brown, Pasadena Players' director, early Saturday morning.

Youthful Bride-elect Is Complimented at Charming Party

Among the brides of June will be Miss Mabel Woodside, lovely blonde fiancée of Dabert Wilkinson of this city whose youthful charms (for she is barely 19) will be crowned by the orange blossoms quite early in the month. In honor of the betrothal, Miss Woodside was complimented last night at the Ralph Best home in Harwood Place where Mrs. Best and Miss Connie Woodside greeted a friendly group.

Baby gladioli and butterfly roses offered the artistic decorative effect, the centerpiece for the dining-room table being particularly attractive. Among amusements devised was one game, "drawing the bride," which was particularly enjoyable and in which the artistic efforts of Miss Gertrude Jentz were rewarded with an exquisite perfume atomizer while consolation went to Miss Elma Sault.

Miss Woodside was gracious enough to display some of the treasures of her dower box and dainty trifles from her trousseau and exclaimed over by the guests.

Strawberry mousse and tiny cakes were enjoyed at the refreshment hour, when the guests were seated around small tables. Each table was centered with a pink candle in crystal candlestick, further adorned with an airy bow of tulle. The bows also were pink, thus adding to the rosy effect of nut-cakes, candies, ices and cakes.

In addition to the hostesses, Mrs. Best and Miss Woodside, and the honoree, Miss Mabel Woodside, the guests were Mesdames Arthur Angle, E. J. Dietrich, A. A. Davis, Thomas Tournant, Noble Watson, Robert Leonard, Randall Wallace, Cranston Tyler, Floyd V. Lyman and Misses Elma Sault, Jeffie Files, Esther Saxelinger, Thursa Marrs, Mary Crafts, Mildred Cook, Flora Bell and Gertrude Jentz.

Miss Woodside is with the Orange County Trust and Savings bank and her fiancé, Mr. Dabert Wilkinson, is associated with the Triangle Express company. The young couple will be married sometime in the early part of June.

Former Local Maid In Hostess Group

A number of Santa Ana young people are included in plans for a novel dancing party which pledges of the Sphinx sorority are staging Saturday night at Point Loma Country club in San Diego.

Miss Leona Talley, a former Santa Ana girl, with Miss Virginia Langworthy formerly of Hollywood and Miss Helen Taylor of San Diego are to be hostesses and are perfecting plans for a highly successful party. The beautiful ballrooms of the Point Loma Country club will be decorated with a profusion of cut flowers and greenery, and the orchestra will play behind a screen of palms.

Church Society

The May meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday school auditorium, where Mrs. H. A. Allen, president, opened the session with special prayer for missionaries out on the fields.

The topic for the day, skillfully presented by Mrs. L. D. Mercereau, was "Spanish-Speaking People of America." Mrs. Mercereau impressively led the devotional hour in prayer and by vivid word-picturing told the time-golden story of Philip the evangelist and the Ethiopian in the desert of Gaza, stressing the personal efforts made for saving the alien brother of a foreign race.

The Rev. B. E. Garcia of Santa Ana as guest of the society of the mission workers among the Mexican peoples. He then spoke in behalf of the Sunday school convention to be held this week which 400 young Mexican folk are expected to attend. He stated the fact that 300 Mexican people have homes in Santa Ana, necessitating the building campaign for a new church, the chapel now occupied at the corner of First and Garfield streets being inadequate for the needs of the congregation.

Eight little Spanish maids and the young son of the Rev. Mr. Garcia then sweetly sang "Christe ma amo," in both Spanish and English, bringing forth a chorus of applause. Mrs. Garcia gave glimpses of interesting phases of their church work among the women and young people, telling of the bulwarks of superstition and ignorance that retard their efforts. Rev. and Mrs. Garcia charmingly rendered a piano duet in Spanish, accompanied by Mrs. E. Roberts.

In the absence of Hubert Fallon, Miss Phyllis White gave a brief outline of the work of the pastor of the church of the Divine Savior as she had known it several years ago.

She told also of work in other Mexican fields, where it is carried on in connection with negroes and Italians, of San Gabriel Mexican church in charge of Mr. Pure; of the mission at Brawley, a Mexican border town where a great work for religious and civic betterment has been accomplished by Mr. Remo, a Mexican peon pastor; of work at Azusa, San Diego, and La Verne and of the eagerness of pupils to acquire knowledge.

Man From Downey Wins S. A. Bride

Miss Ann Giesler who on Monday, became the bride of Harold Fallon of Downey at a pretty wedding at St. Ann's church.

The pretty little church of St. Ann's parish in the south end of the city was converted into a golden bower of Scotch broom Monday for the nuptials of Miss Ann Giesler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Giesler, 715 South Ross street, and Harold Owen Fallon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fallon of Downey.

The Rev. Father P. C. Santy celebrated the nuptial mass which was preceded by a half hour of music and song with Mrs. William Schuster at the organ and Mrs. M. Snyder singing a group of appropriate bridal songs.

Miss Giesler was lovely in white georgette with Venetian lace trimming. Her veil was worn with the traditional orange blossoms and she carried a graceful cluster of baby gladioli. Attending her was Miss Agnes Giesler as maid of honor. Her flock was of raspberry georgette headed with silver and rhinestones. Her flowers were sweet peas in harmonizing tints and she wore a charming picture hat.

Dainty Genevieve Krukenberg, the bride's small niece from Norwalk, as flower girl, wore a bouffant, little orchid frock and scattered rose petals from a pretty basket. Ernest Giesler assisted Mr. Fallon as best man.

Following the impressive ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride where an elaborate three course wedding breakfast prepared by Mrs. E. E. French, was deftly served by Miss Margaret French and Mrs. Louis Krukenberg. The table was a lovely sight with its pink tulle garlands, pink and white sweet peas and silver candlesticks. The great wedding cake which was cut with much ceremony by the new Mrs. Fallon, was topped with two shining doves nestled in lilacs of the valley.

All appointments of the home were in keeping, sweet peas in crystal baskets were used with artistic effect. A wedding bell swayed in the center of the living-room where the happy couple and good wishes of their friends. Following the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Fallon took their departure for San Diego and other southern points where they will enjoy a two weeks' honeymoon. The bride chose a smart ensemble of tan and green for traveling. Upon their return they will make their home in Downey where Mr. Fallon is connected with the Southern Counties' Gas company.

Guests at the pretty church wedding and the breakfast following included the Rev. Father P. C. Santy, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Giesler and sons, Allen, Ernest and Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fallon, their daughter Violet and son Bernard Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler and daughter Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krukenberg and daughter Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, Mr. and Mrs. James Sheeley, Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Giesler of Oxnard, Mrs. E. ### June Bride Honored By Her Friends at Trousseau Party

Miss Thelma Simmons whose marriage to Edgar Dixon will be one of the June events, was complimented most charmingly last night when Mrs. James Dixon and Miss Edna Dixon presented a trousseau shower in honor of the approaching nuptials.

The pretty home of Mrs. Dixon, herself a bride of less than a year, was the scene of the party and was effectively decorated with tall baskets of flowers in exceedingly French arrangement of Cecil Brunner buds, maidenhair fern, blueing feet, A. myriad of flowers brightened every nook and offered a colorful background for the merry-makers. Tantalizing dance melodies were chosen from Victrola records.

Dancing was discontinued for an informal late in the evening when Mrs. Liebzig, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Perkins, served a refreshing pineapple ice with her famous cake and coffee.

Among those sharing the pleasures of the dance and the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Liebzig were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. ### Host Plans Dinner For Wife's Birthday

A birthday dinner, planned and carried through to a successful conclusion by the husband of the honoree, was a unique event enjoyed last Sunday by a little group of guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Huston of Huntington Beach. The day was Mrs. Huston's natal day, and Mr. Huston, conspiring with Mrs. Martha Foster, arranged to deck the house in spicy pink carnations and serve an elaborate course dinner at mid-day, ending with a handsomely decorated birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gardner of this city together with Mrs. Foster and the host's brother, J. Edward Huston of Huntington Beach, were bidden to enjoy the event. Mrs. Huston was taken completely by surprise, not only by the dinner guests but by the many lovely gifts showered on her.

Dancing Club Members Are Entertained at Liebzig Home

When Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Liebzig planned an informal dancing party for last night, they combined the membership of two dancing clubs to which they belong, asked a few guests and opened their home on Spurgeon street for one of the week's happiest affairs.

The Liebzig home is well adapted for such entertaining, the spacious drawing-room lending itself well to dancing as it is amply able to accommodate a far larger group than that of last night. Rugs were removed and the floors offered a pleasantly smooth surface for flying feet. A myriad of flowers brightened every nook and offered a colorful background for the merry-makers. Tantalizing dance melodies were chosen from Victrola records.

PUPILS SCORE HIGH AVERAGE IN CITIZENSHIP

Ninety per cent of the 920 pupils the semester ended Jan. 30, 1925, school scored between 90 and 100 points on citizenship markings for the semester ended Jan. 30, 1925, it was disclosed to Kiwanians yesterday by W. M. Clayton, vice principal of the schools, in an address at the club meeting at St. Ann's Inn.

The vice principal pointed out that at the opening of each semester, each pupil is given a credit of 100, with possibility of increasing the credit 10 points for attendance every day, and another five by completing the period without a tardy mark, making a possible total score of 115.

Why Demerits Are Given. Demerits are given for various violations of the codes established by the school. According to Clayton, virtually every one of the pupils is keen to have demerits removed when they are charged up. It is with no little pride that the instructor recited details as to the number of pupils who received good credits, the record being as follows:

Total number of pupils enrolled for the semester, 920; with a perfect record, 586; number with record of 95 to 99, 336; number with standing of 90 or over, 722; number with record of 90 to 94, 98; total with standing of 90 or over, 820; with record of 80 to 89, 60; with record of 70 to 79, 16; with record of 60 to 69, 12; total with standing less than 80, 25. For one full year, 73 students showed a perfect record. Reduced to percentages, the foregoing figures mean 42 per cent of the pupils were perfect, with other percentages as follows: 90-100, 78 per cent; 90-100, 90 per cent; below 90, 10 per cent; below 80, 3 per cent, below 70, 1 1/2 per cent.

Discussing citizenship in its general application, the speaker said that one may have mental and physical equipment, but that he will fail utterly if he does not have an ideal back of such equipment. "In the Santa Ana schools, we are trying to inculcate in the minds of pupils the right idea of womanhood and manhood and the relationship of the individual to other persons and to the Creator," Clayton said, in stressing some of the highlights of the school instruction.

"We think of our pupils at the high school as a community, and I am dealing in platitudes when I say that what citizens are today, boys of tomorrow will be. It is true that young men and women of today have greater temptations than did the boys and girls of my day, and we hear older people today ranting about the young going to the bow-wows, but I imagine if we should investigate their boy or girl records we would find them just as bad as they believe to be the records of our boys and girls of today."

Ernest Crozier Phillips was chairman of the day, the program being under direction of the educational committee, A. N. Zerman, being one of the members.

Presentation of actions by the board of directors, meeting on Monday evening, disclosed that the meeting of June 3 had been so far as "Harbor day" at the club, with W. L. Duggan as chairman, and J. P. Baumgartner and A. N. Zerman cooperating on the committee. Arrangements also were made by the directors for a club ladies' night, to be held the latter part of May or early in June. Will Kellogg and Orlyn Robertson were appointed a committee to name the date and work out details for the party. One of the features will be a theater party at the Walker theater, the club having voted to accept the invitation of Charles E. Walker to be guests at his theater on the evening of the party. As discussed, a card and dance party at some point in the city will follow the show.

High Attendance Mark. Reports on the contest closing last Wednesday, disclosed that during the 10 weeks the contest the club average for attendance was 99.6 per cent, conceded to be a remarkably high record.

The club was divided into two divisions, with O. A. Haley in charge of one and George Dunton heading the other. The divisions were known as the Red and Dodge groups. The Dodge forces lost by 3 of one per cent and later will pay for a dinner for the winning side.

Next Wednesday, club members will compliment Civil war veterans of the city by inviting them to the meeting. Each club member is expected to bring a vegetable as a guest. Owing to the fact that the programs are arranged for weeks in advance, no attempt will be made to present a special memorial program. Entertainment of veterans just prior to Memorial day has been established by the club as an annual event.

Edwards Under Quarantine for Smallpox Case

State Highway Commissioner Nelson T. Edwards, of Orange, has a mild case of smallpox and will be confined to his home for at least 10 days.

Edwards had not been feeling well for several days, but thought that he merely had a touch of influenza. Yesterday, he started breaking out. Dr. A. H. Domann, Nelson's physician, and Dr. G. V. Presson, county health officer, called and diagnosed the case as smallpox.

Nelson is not confined to his bed and was able to answer the telephone this morning. The commissioner's wife has also been quarantined. "Nothing serious, just a little touch, and we expect that the well known smallpox card will be off our house within 10 days," said Edwards over the telephone.

RIVALS STRIP OHIO GOVERNOR OF HIS POWERS

COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—A rare study in modern state government is unfolding in Ohio. Gov. Vic Donahey has just emerged from a bitter controversy with his legislature, as perhaps the least powerful of all American governors.

Donahey has been stripped of virtually every power, excepting that of pardoning state prisoners, usually invested by commonwealths in the executive branch of their governments.

"Veto Vic," the sobriquet earned by the unprecedented number of measures Donahey disapproved during his first term in office, has become a hollow phrase, as a result of the activities of the 86th general assembly now in recess until December, 1926.

The 86th Ohio legislature passed approximately 175 new bills. Donahey vetoed 39 of them. Of this number the legislature enacted over his veto the 34 which it considered vital, leaving the importance or purely local interest.

Thus the veto power became meaningless so far as Donahey was concerned. Donahey is a Democrat surrounded by Republicans—a Republican legislature and Republicans holding all the other major state offices.

The second principal power to go by the wayside was the power of appointment. When their terms had expired, Donahey sought to fill the places of Republican members of the utilities, tax and civil service commissions with Democrats.

All of his major appointments, which must be confirmed by the senate, were rejected. The senate then recessed until 1926 leaving the governor without power to make recess appointments to these positions.

Even Donahey's advisory capacity in legislative matters was taken from him by the legislature when leaders sought his views on important legislation and then proceeded to pass laws opposed to those wishes.

Donahey's position is somewhat similar to that of Al Smith, of New York, in that he was able to carry the state overwhelmingly for himself, but failed to carry a single other Democrat into office with him.

Thirty students of the Santa Ana junior college will be awarded diplomas at graduation exercises this year, it was made known today by Principal D. K. Hammond.

The commencement speaker will be Dr. Raymond Brooks, head of the philosophy department at Pomona college. Graduation exercises will be held on Thursday, June 18, in the high school auditorium.

Baccalaureate services will be conducted in the United Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, June 14. The Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor, will preach the sermon. A section of the church is to be especially reserved for the graduates, their parents and friends.

This year's class marks the second largest that has ever taken part in junior college commencement exercises. With few exceptions, the graduates have decided to continue their education, applying the two years' work here with accepted credit at California colleges.

Graduates are Elizabeth Baker, Mary Beasley, Morris Borden, Verna Boyer, Stuart Carrier, James Eudaly, Mabel Franzen, Lois Hallman, Norman Hicks, Abe Johnson, Merl Kennedy, Mary K. Lowry, Katherine McMullen, Mabel Miller, Horace Perkins, Newton Pierce, Esther Ratliff, Russell Rowland, Mary Scheffer, Addie Settle, Helen Sipherd, Frieda Smart, Juanita Smart, Gertrude Smith, Huestis Snow, John Steele, Morton Stephenson, Jean Tantlinger, Raymond Vandruft and Carl Warner.

URGENT OBSCENE MAGAZINE SALE BE SUPPRESSED

Removal of obscene magazines from the news stands throughout the state will be asked in a resolution which will be presented at the annual convention of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, held this week in Fresno, according to word received here from Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, president of the fourth district P.T.A., who is attending the state meet. Mrs. Snow is a member of the resolutions committee.

Other resolutions to come before the convention will ask that ample provisions be made by the state government for the care and education of destitute blind children.

The convention will also ask that Governor Richardson L. Smith, Lewis cafeteria bill, providing for cafeteria service in the schools at cost, and Senate Bill 543, establishing a 24-hour school to aid in preventing delinquency among children. The operation of school cafeterias will not only provide better and more wholesome food for children, but will lessen the financial burden of poor families with limited means, it is pointed out by the supporters of the movement.

Designed to bring about more effective organization and to increase membership, is a proposed survey of all the schools of the state for the purpose of determining how many have Parent-Teacher associations.

SLOT MACHINE TAX OF $40 ANNUALLY MERE PITTANCE TO OWNERS AND OPERATORS

What does the future hold for the candy slot machine business in Santa Ana?

This is a question that is causing much comment around drug stores, pool halls and other places in Santa Ana, where nickel machines have been doing a thriving business for the last year or more.

A survey of the situation reveals many predictions made by owners of stores where the machines are located, but only the future will reveal whether the machines can live under the new city ordinance.

Would Suppress by Taxation An ordinance taxing each machine $40 a year went into effect on May 9. The measure was passed by the city council, not as a means of raising revenue, it was stated, but with a view to driving the machines out of the city.

The result has been that licensees for 74 slot machines had been paid for at the city clerk's office, up to and including yesterday.

At the same time, it was learned officially that the machines do not belong to the owners of stores where they are located, but to individuals who place the machines in the various business houses, under an agreement with the proprietor of the business house.

The business man merely allows the machine to be installed in his place, buys the candy mints for it, and for this service gets half of the profits of the machine. Each machine contains candy mints, which can be obtained by the player who puts his nickels in the device.

Pays Half of License From an investigation just completed, it was also learned that the business man paid half of the license fee on the machine, although the licensees issued on the 74 machines were taken out in the names of the owners of the devices.

According to records in the city clerk's office, four persons have paid license fees on all the machines in the city which have been paid for. These are H. T. Foust, 409 North Birch street, who paid $107.30 for his license to operate 42 machines during the remainder of the year; C. E. Graham, 219 1/2 Spurgeon street, $56.20, to operate 22 machines; L. A. Bolton, 1027 East Fourth street, $153.30, to operate six machines, and C. H. McGee, 314 East Camille street, who paid $102.20 to operate four machines.

For each machine, the owner has paid a tax of $25.55, which will give him the right to continue operation of his machine until the first of next year. Employees at the city clerk's office are not accepting fees for a longer period.

cut down the eligibles to approximately 50 per cent.

Two owners of business houses in Santa Ana, where machines are located, merely laughed at the tax of $40 per annum. One said that as long as he derived enough money out of the machine in his place to pay his rent, he would have no complaint to make regarding his half of the license fee. The other man said that his machine paid him approximately $100 a month.

Not Worried Over License The paying of the license fees did not greatly disturb the owners of the stores, it was understood. According to the statement of one owner, the fee was paid from the profits of the machine in his place of business. He said the owner of the machine paid the fee to the city clerk.

Another man predicted that the slot machines would not be in operation in Santa Ana after Jan. 1, 1926. He stated that he was of the opinion that the licensees paid

Claude Rogers, chief of police, said today that the license inspectors would start work immediately to find the location of machines on which the license tax has not been paid, and that the devices would be turned to the wall, until the fees were paid.

He is of the opinion that there are very few slot machines operating in the city now without a license, and said he would instruct the entire police force to check up on machines on the various beats.

In this manner, Chief Rogers hopes to either add to the city treasury, or put the machines out of commission. But there are 74 that the police cannot touch.

Other reports were to the effect that there were approximately 150 machines in operation in the city at the time the new ordinance went into effect, which, if true, would

INCREASE IN VALUES HERE SEEN IF OIL SANDS FOUND

Importance of Field Near Santa Ana Is Pointed Out By Writer

BUILDING PERMITS EXPECTED TO JUMP

Increased Bank Deposits, Scarcity of Vacancies, Among Predictions

By E. Neil Stanley Development Editor Register

What will an oil strike mean to Santa Ana?

Will it cause town and country property values to increase? And will it result in an increased population?

The answer is in the affirmative, if the records of communities that have enjoyed oil strikes may be taken as examples.

What to Expect

If oil is struck near Santa Ana, you can look for these things: A jump in land values, more building permits, increased bank deposits, scarcity of vacant houses and apartments, employment to everyone and an influx of oil men from all parts of the country.

Before anyone starts day dreaming, it might be stated that as yet Santa Ana does not have an oil field. However, there are plenty of people who are willing to wager that there will be one here within a very short time. They base their opinion on the fact that the Standard and some of the other big companies have all available acreage under lease and that a thorough search will be made for "black gold."

Has Standard Struck Oil?

There are some who profess to believe that the Standard has struck a commercial well in the well it is drilling south of town, at joining the Paulmarino school. Oil has been seen in the big slump hole, but whether it comes from the well itself, or from the machinery used in drilling the holes, is a matter of debate.

Further north, the Gulf Oil company is preparing to sink a hole in search of oil. The Gulf site is far enough from the Standard rig to assure a hole being dug, even if the Standard gets a "duster."

Will Drill Another Well

Regardless of whether the Standard gets oil in the Paulmarino well, another will be sunk by the same company on a site several miles northwest, on the Segerstrom farm, it is understood.

In every community that has been fortunate enough to be near an oil field, property values have increased tremendously, new buildings have risen, new industries have come in, and everyone, from the banker to the bootblack, has benefited.

Who's Who in Community Development

ASA HOFFMAN

Asa Hoffman, realtor, with offices at 336 North Broadway, has been a resident of Santa Ana for 29 years. Hoffman attended the local schools and in 1906, bought the Santa Ana Produce company, which was at that time located where the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank now stands, at the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets. To the rear of the main store was his wholesale market, the site of which is now occupied by the Pennant cafe.

Hoffman states that at the time he came to this city, Fourth street was unpaved and the only public transportation facilities were horses and a little steam car that operated between Santa Ana and Orange.

After operating the Santa Ana Produce company for 10 years, Hoffman moved to his ranch because of failing health and stayed there for two years. Selling his ranch in 1918, he returned to Santa Ana and entered the real estate business, in which he has been actively engaged ever since.

Hoffman was the chairman of the local "own your home" campaign. He is a Shriner and is a past master of Silver Cord Masonic lodge of Masons and a past patron of the Eastern Star.

He is a member of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors and of the Santa Ana Country club. His favorite pastimes are golf and camping trips.

MESA CHAMBER BACKS S. A. MAN FOR STATE JOB

Everett A. White Receives Another Indorsement As Realty Commissioner

Everett A. White, Santa Ana, past president of the California Real Estate association, who is a candidate for the office of state real estate commissioner, has been indorsed by the Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce. A copy of the indorsement has been dispatched to Gov. Friend W. Richardson.

White is believed to have an excellent chance of being appointed to the position recently vacated by Edwin T. Keiser, who resigned to become an officer of a large company, with holdings in northern California.

The local man has been indorsed by all of the realty boards of Orange county, as well as by several boards outside this county.

Pending the selection of a new commissioner, the work of the office is being handled by A. P. Soule, deputy commissioner. Soule is now in Southern California, making his headquarters in the Los Angeles branch office.

Realtors throughout the state are urging the governor to name a practical real estate man to the office of commissioner. It is pointed out that the realtors sponsored the formation of the office and that, inasmuch as the work of the office concerns realtors, the commissioner should be from the ranks of realtors.

According to a report from Sacramento a few days ago, Richardson does not plan to name the new commissioner for several weeks, as he desires to carefully investigate all of the numerous candidates.

Southland Has Edge

It is considered probable that the governor will name a Southern California man to the position, since the majority of the realty licenses are granted to Southern California men.

The Costa Mesa indorsement follows: "We heartily indorse the candidacy of Everett A. White, of Santa Ana, and recommend his appointment to the office of real estate commissioner. We believe Mr. White to be eminently qualified for the position. His appointment would be appreciated by this organization."

LATEST SHOW PLACE OF SANTA ANA

Above is the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borchard, located at 1617 East Fourth street. The owners plan to move into their new home in about 10 days. The dwelling is considered one of the most beautiful in Southern California.

TAX MEN DESIRE PARTICULARS ON REALTY PROFITS

Investigation of profits derived from real estate sales in connection with income tax returns will be inaugurated in a few days by internal revenue officials.

Transfers of real estate as recorded during 1923 and 1924 will be checked against income returns filed for these years.

More than 100 taxpayers who either failed to file returns for 1923 or made incorrect reports of their income are being summoned to the internal revenue office daily.

"If you neglected to file a return for 1923 or 1924, call at the internal revenue office at once and square things," Collector Rex B. Goodcell advised yesterday.

Collector Goodcell stated that more income derived from real estate profits was reported annually by California citizens than those of any other state except New York.

Realtors' Again Declared Coined Word In Decree

A judgment and decree upholding the National Association of Real Estate Boards in confining use of the coined term "realtor" to active members in good standing of its constituent boards has just been handed down by the district court of the second judicial district for Weber county, Utah.

The judgment and decree were issued in the same week as a similar decree issued by the circuit court of St. Louis, Mo., enjoining against the unauthorized use of the term "realtor."

It is the fifth injunction to be issued by the courts of various states in the last nine months restraining individuals or firms from advertising themselves as realtors without being active members in good standing of some constituent board of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and the second to be issued by a Weber county, Utah, district court.

$40,000 Is Expended By Owners In Erection of Residence

What is considered one of the most beautiful homes in the Southland has just been completed at 1617 East Fourth street by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borchard, of 892 South Broadway.

Approximately $40,000 was expended by the Borchards in making their home attractive both inside and out.

The dwelling is situated on a tract an acre and a quarter in size. The house itself is 40 by 70 feet.

To the rear is a large building which contains space for three automobiles, and which also has an apartment for servants, a wash room and a tool room. Ample room has been left between the house and the garage structure in order to assure plenty of room for turning machines.

Shrubs of all kinds have been planted on all sides of the Borchard home. Great care was taken in their selection in order to have the entire collection harmonize.

While most rear yards end at the garage building, the Borchards have still more space back of this structure. Full grown walnut trees grace this spot and add to the general beauty of the home.

The residence is a two-story affair of modified Italian architecture. It is of stucco construction and consists of 10 rooms.

"Walls of the various rooms are hand decorated. Floors are of hardwood.

The Borchards expect to move into their new home in about 10 days.

Plans for the building were prepared by Frederick H. Eley.

Building Work on Coast Increasing

Building permits calling for an aggregate construction cost of $51,218,759 were issued in 80 principal cities of the Pacific coast during April. This indicates the greatest building activity ever reported from the seven far western states, according to the Pacific coast section of the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co.

Analyzing these figures, the Straus survey shows the April total to be 2 per cent greater than that of March, 17 per cent greater than that of last April and of April 1923, and 39 per cent greater than the total of April, 1922, from these cities. The April figures bring this year's total above that of any previous comparable period.

The April total in Santa Ana was $147,106, as compared with $113,606 for the same month of last year.

REALTY MEET MAY 23 WILL DRAW S. A. MEN

The educational conference of the California Real Estate association at the University of Southern California, in Los Angeles, May 23, will be attended by 25 local realtors, members of the realty class whose instructor is Jack Wallace, chairman of the local board's educational committee.

Every realty board in the state has been invited to have representatives at the big meeting.

The experience of the last several years in building a real estate profession on the prime essential, education, will be presented to the conference. Based upon the results obtained by the 35 boards having such classes under California Real Estate association auspices, a program and curriculum for the 1925-26 classes will be worked out.

"Upward of 3000 brokers and salesmen have taken the real estate classes under the direction of our state association committee," Chairman Harrison Lewis declares, "and we believe that this number will be largely increased each year."

Among the speakers will be head officers of the University of Southern California and the California Real Estate association.

White & Childers, of 306 North Broadway, will erect a dwelling and a garage at a cost of $2000 at 805 North Artesia avenue.

H. W. Haddon, of 1014 French street, has secured a permit for the alteration of his home. The work will cost $1800. Faccou & Anderson have the contract.

FIND MATERIALS ARE LOW IN COST

The average cost of building materials used in constructing the ordinary dwelling house is approximately 13 per cent lower than for the corresponding period of last year, according to data compiled by Southern California chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, Los Angeles.

The survey shows that building materials are lower today than at any time since 1917, at which time prices were on about the same level as of today. During 1918, there was a slight increase, with practically a normal demand, while in 1919 the market was more active, building material costs continued to rise, with the result that 1920 was the peak year, not only in cost but in volume of building throughout Southern California.

Many Realtors Plan to Attend Picnic Saturday

Local realty boards throughout Southern California are planning to have large delegations at the third annual picnic of the Southern California Realtors' Picnic association Saturday at Ganesha park, Pomona. It was announced today by D. Richard Ainsley, president of the California Real Estate association. The date of the picnic falls during the holding of the Los Angeles County fair at Pomona and that city is to be thrown open to the visiting realtors.

The badges of the visitors will bring admittance to any part of the fair, and a special celebration at the scenic Ganesha park, including horse races and other events is being arranged for the occasion. All realtors and their families and friends are especially invited to attend the big event, which is expected to draw a large crowd of visitors.

Many Santa Ana realtors and their families will be present.

LETTER FROM S. A. TRAVELER GIVES DATA ON FOREIGN PORTS

A. B. Rousselle Says Harbor At Newport Has Numerous Natural Advantages

URGES IMMEDIATE ACTION ON BONDS

Believes Orange County Has Opportunity to Develop World Wide Trade

By A. L. OLIVER Secretary Chamber of Commerce

In order to fully appreciate one's own community, it is well to occasionally travel around and compare local conditions in Santa Ana and Orange county with those of other sections.

It is a fact that if everyone could take the time to investigate other harbors and realize the development that has taken place as a result of better transportation, Orange county would vote almost 100 per cent for immediate action at Newport harbor.

The writer has just received a letter from A. B. Rousselle, who is touring Europe, and he writes as follows regarding harbor development in Europe:

"If the citizens of Santa Ana could see the shipping and business that is carried on in these different harbors I am visiting, Orange county would go wild over its opportunity, instead of putting it off year after year. Manila's harbor entrance isn't much wider than ours. They tell me it is about 400 feet wide. If they could see these hundreds of millions of people living at our very doors, buying and shipping from the Atlantic coast, England, France and Germany, such products as cotton, iron, petroleum and hundreds of other products that we could ship from the Pacific coast, they would appreciate what Robert Dollar said at one of the foreign trade conventions I attended in San Francisco, that some day the Orient trade will cause the New York of the Atlantic to be located on the Pacific coast. As his ships are to be seen in every port we have visited, he ought to know.

"I haven't seen a port yet on this trip that has the same natural advantages that Newport harbor has. If immediate action could be taken to develop Orange County harbor, we would all live to see China, Japan, Manila and India sending their products to us, and buying our goods and raw materials."

"When we left San Pedro harbor at the beginning of our trip, ships flying flags from several parts of the old world were waiting for dockage space and more are coming each succeeding month, overcrowding the limited capacities of the San Pedro harbor. San Pedro has shown that a mud flat can be transformed into a practical harbor, and Orange County harbor, with all its natural advantages, can step right in behind San Pedro and grow faster than its big brother, once it has made the entrance deep enough for ships of commerce to come in."

If history repeats itself and if the citizens of Orange county will give opportunity a chance to expand the future of this section, will be whatever we wish to make it. Harbor development will assist materially in making Santa Ana "The Ideal City."

Schedule Finals In First Aid Test

The finals in the first aid contest sponsored by the Boy Scout organization of Orange county will be held in the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday evening, starting promptly at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Roland E. Dye, Scout executive.

"The contest will be interesting, instructive and entertaining and all friends and relatives of scouts are urged to be present," Dye said today.

"The contest will be between five troops, representing the five districts of the county."

That spirit is simply the human desire for excellence. The craftsman's craving to produce his best nourished by the wish of the rest of society to own the best.

APARTMENTS TO COST $15,000 PLANNED HERE

A $15,000 two-story stucco apartment house will be erected by Mark Lightburn and James R. Smith, Long Beach builders, at the southwest corner of Wakeham and Orange streets.

The lot, which is 65 by 125 feet, has just been purchased from Frank Wakeham of Santa Ana, through John H. Neale of Neale & Henson, of 427 North Sycamore street, his agents.

The apartment structure will contain 12 rooms. Building operations are scheduled to commence at once. Lightburn and Smith are well known in Long Beach, having erected a number of apartment buildings there.

NEW BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Included in a new consignment of books recently received at the Santa Ana public library is "Ten Years After," by Philip Gibbs, in which he paints the world that was, the agony it went through, and the things we must face if we are to have the future. No detail escapes discussion. From the Dawes report to the Ku Klux Klan.

Another popular book received recently is "Seventy Years of Life and Labor," by Samuel Gompers. This, with many other new books, can now be obtained at the library, including the following:

Baker, Josephine—"Child Hygiene": Childhood is the time when we may build a lasting foundation for health. An important contribution to the discussion of this subject.

Gann, Thomas—"In An Unknown Land": A trip through Yucatan where drunkenness is considered a beaustic state, where the medicine man employs a sharp serpent's tooth as a lancet, a land which totally discredits the belief that the era of romance and adventure no longer exists.

H'Doubler, M. N.—"The Dance": The relation of the dance to general culture and gives detailed and concrete instruction in the conducting of classes, costumes, music and the management of public performances.

Hicks, Ami Mail—"Everyday Art": Ugliness and bad taste in our daily life are not necessary. The simplest things can be made harmonious and beautiful with a little care. Explicit directions as to what and how.

Marden, O. S.—"Making Friends With Our Nerves": The pathological side, the physical side, with talks on the right food, exercise, etc., the bus'ess side, how fear and worry affect the nerves, finally the ethical side, in the tuning of one's forces to the divine source of energy.

McDougal, W.—"The Indestructible Union": "Against alien invasion and alien propaganda we must keep America, Americans." An interpretation of our national life by an understanding of its psychology.

Schwenitz, Karl de—"The Art of Helping People Out of Trouble": An interpretation of the art of living and a description of a method of helping people to overcome their difficulties—a book for social workers, teachers, parents, physicians, clergymen and lawyers.

Thompson, J. A.—"Science and Religion": Aims to show that the results of modern scientific research and discovery cannot be regarded as antithetic to religious interpretation. Scientific account of nature is essentially in agreement with the religious vision.

Wilstach, Paul—"Along the Pyrenees": Not only through the geographical Pyrenees, but through the historical, political and legendary settings also, and with a definiteness of local color that is wholly charming.

DENY OIL STRIKE IN IRVINE NO. 1 WELL

Reports that the Irvine No. 1 well of the Standard Oil company had come in today as a producing well are apparently without foundation.

Inquiry at the main office of the Standard in Los Angeles, and also at the rig, brought the information that, as yet, the well was not on production.

The well site adjoins the Paul arino school and should it go on production, would disclose an entirely new oil pool.

BIDWELL IS HEAD OF STATE I. O. O. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—C. H. S. Bidwell, of Sacramento, was elected grand warden of the California Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at today's convention session, defeating Superior Judge Harold Louderback, of San Francisco, on the second ballot, 518 to 312. Hjalmar Johnson, of Pasadena, withdrew after the first ballot.

The other nominees, headed by E. C. Rittenhouse, of Santa Cruz, for grand master, were elected without opposition. Selection of a 1926 convention city will be made tomorrow. No invitations have been received and it now appears the session will fall to San Francisco. Santa Cruz today informally bid for the 1927 session.

The California assembly of Rebekahs was deadlocked this morning in selection of a grand warden with 16 nominations.

FOUR-ROOM HOUSE OF CHARMING DESIGN

(Detailed plans and specifications of this house may be obtained at low cost by writing to the home plan editor, The Register.)

Even a four-room house can be a charming bit of architecture. Here is an example of an excellent design for a four-room house in two stories.

The proportions of the building are good, the roof slope correct, and such details as windows and porch are skillfully handled to produce an effective whole.

Of course, in so small a house, there must be sacrifices. One naturally eliminates everything that can be spared.

The designers of this plan eliminated the dining room, which after all is the most easily spared room in the house. Instead, they planned a big, pleasant kitchen with many casement windows, and left one end of it free for table and chairs.

They planned a single central chimney which serves not only range and fireplace, but the heating system as well. They placed the basement stair just below the main stair in the living room, and arranged the plumbing so that sink, bathroom and basement laundry tubs are served by a single stack.

Naturally there is no hall or vestibule. The stair is therefore made a beautiful feature of the living room. The fireplace is perhaps a luxury, but one that is worth its cost in the hominess it imparts. There is a coat closet at one side of it.

The front bedroom upstairs is 14'0" by 10'2". Both bedrooms are provided with hanging closet and a built-in chest of drawers. Both bedrooms have light and air through casements on two sides.

There is an extra closet in the front bedroom, a linen case in the hall, and a medicine cabinet in the bathroom.

A home like this should cost about $5400 to build in the average community.

Stage and Screen

Richard Dix and Claire Adams in a scene from "Men and Women," picture beginning three-day engagement at the Yost theater tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS
WALKER—Vaudeville and "Man and Maid," with Lew Cody.
WEST END—"The Spaniard," with Ricardo Cortez.
YOST—Vaudeville and "Men and Women," with Richard Dix.

ALL-STAR CAST FEATURED IN "THE SPANIARD"

Ricardo Cortez, Jetta Goudal, Noah Beery are featured in the leading roles of the new production, "The Spaniard," now showing at the West End theater. The picture, based on the novel of the same name by Juanita Savage, brings Cortez to the screen in the role of a bull-fighter, who turns out to be a grandee of Spain.

The story has to do with the taming of a beautiful English society girl, a born flirt, by the Spaniard. Cortez has not only the appearance and dramatic ability, but he is endowed with the appealing personality so necessary to put across this role. He is said to have put everything he has into the role of Don Pedro—and, judging from his characterizations in "The Swan" and others, he has plenty.

Others in the cast of the production include Emily Fitzroy, Renzo De Gardi, Mathilda Brundage, Bernard Siegel and Florence Renart.

Beery plays the bandit chief, Gomez. At the beginning of the picture he is a servant in Cortez's employ, but is thrown out of the castle, when he attempts to assist Miss Goudal to escape.

Others in the cast of the production include Emily Fitzroy, Renzo De Gardi, Mathilda Brundage, Bernard Siegel and Florence Renart.

DIX, HAMILTON BANKERS IN NEW FILM
It was a cinch for Richard Dix and Neil Hamilton they fell right into their characters in "Men and Women," due tonight at the Yost theater. Dix is a bank cashier in the picture and Hamilton is his assistant.

"My first job was in a bank," said Dix.

"One of my first was selling bonds," added Hamilton.

The action of "Men and Women" adapted for the screen by Clara Beranger, pivots on the discovery of the loss of some bonds from the bank vaults. Hamilton is blamed but Dix is the guilty party.

Hamilton, in the production, tries to win Dix's wife away from him by showering her with jewelry and beautiful gowns. Claire Adams has the role of the wife and Robert Edison is president of the bank. All are featured in the picture.

U. S. ARMY NEEDS MORE CHAPLAINS

WASHINGTON, May 14.—More chaplains are needed for the U. S. army to maintain moral and religious standards among the troops, according to the Council of Chaplains.

Civil clergymen and Y. M. C. A. workers are useful, but they cannot take the place of the army chaplain, the council maintains. The clergymen or religious worker outside the military organization, who is not under orders, who is free to leave any moment when danger threatens or hardships become too severe, however great his talent or devotion, labors under heavy handicap as compared with the chaplain who belongs to the outfit and in whom every man has a sense of ownership and pride, chaplains at a meeting here said.

Much discussion was devoted to the subject of the chaplain's rank and to answering criticism that commissions stand as a barrier between the private soldier and the army minister.

"Rank does not separate the enlisted man from the chaplain," according to council statement, "it serves rather to assure the soldier, whatever his grade, that the representative of religion in the army has been deemed worthy of respect, just as in civil life, the community finds various ways to show distinctive honor to the clergyman."

A plea was made by the meeting for sending chaplains especially to out-of-the-way posts: "In isolated stations, where no churches are accessible, these men should not be left without religious privileges."

The increase in chaplains should keep pace with the increased army personnel, they insisted.

"If other officers are to be trained and organized for possible service, chaplains should also be organized and trained, unless the possibility of large bodies of American youth called to military service without adequate or thorough preparation to safeguard their moral and spiritual interests."

EXTRAORDINARY CAST IN "MAN AND MAID"

If you want to see a picture full of love and intrigue, don't miss Elinor Glyn's production, "Man and Maid," which opened at the Walker theater yesterday.

Madame Glyn has psychology at the tips of her fingers and knows how to put her theories over on the screen as well as she does in her writing.

She offers for our approval a new leading woman Harriett Hammond. Miss Hammond is an ethereal blonde, and gave a beautiful performance of the heroine role—Alathia.

Lew Cody astounds one as the hero and makes one hope he will never play anything else but parts like that of Sir Nicholas Thorndike from this time on.

Renee Adoree is brilliant in the role of Suzette. Her scintillating personality will long be remembered, as will the gentleness and sweetness of Alec Francis in the role of the hero's valet.

Others in the cast whose work stands out are: Paulette Goddard, Crawford Kent, Jacqueline Gadsden, Carrie Clark Ward, Dagmar Desmond and Jane Mercer.

SCHOOLS TO BE DISCUSSED AT MASONIC MEET

Fifteen hundred persons are expected to attend the program given in the high school auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock by the three Masonic lodges of Santa Ana in observance of Public Schools week.

The gathering will be public, non-sectarian and non-political, the purpose being to acquaint the people with the great value and progress of the public schools. Everyone is invited to be present.

Throughout the state, Masonic lodges are holding similar meetings. The request that lodges hold such gatherings came from the grand lodge of Masons of California.

A splendid program has been arranged. The principal speaker will be Dr. Robert Taylor, of Pomona college. The high school orchestra and the boys' and girls' glee clubs of the educational institution will entertain with music.

The musical program, arranged by S. J. Mustel, director of the orchestra, is as follows:

"Star-Spangled Banner," glee clubs and orchestra; "Gypsy Song," "In Jungle Land," boys' glee club; "Calm As the Night," "Song of the Sun," girls' glee club; "Poet and Peasant," orchestra; cornet solo, Mrs. Mustel; "Poppyland," orchestra; violin solo, Georgia Belle Walton, accompanied by Marjory Walton at the piano; "Stars and Stripes Forever," orchestra.

Claims Poincare Offered to Help Riffs In Morocco

PARIS, May 14. — Raymond Poincare, when minister of foreign affairs in 1923, summoned Abd el Krim to Paris and proposed to support the Riff chief in ousting the Spaniard from Morocco. Andre Berthon, communist deputy, charged in the newspaper l'Humanite.

Berthon published in the Communist organ an interview he claims to have had with Abd el Krim at the time, when the latter came secretly to Paris two years ago.

He alleges Poincare's proposal was to help drive out the Spaniards and to establish a French protectorate in the Riff country in Northern Africa.

Abd el Krim refused to accept Poincare's proposition, says Berthon, whereupon the then foreign minister ordered Marshal Lyautey, to prepare for military action.

The Communist deputy adds that, a few months ago, Abd el Krim asked Marshal Lyautey to confer regarding the northern border of French Morocco. Lyautey did not reply, Berthon says, for this would have removed the pretext for the "present intervention."

TRADE JOURNAL HAS PUBLICITY ON S. A. STORE

The Hill and Carden clothing store, incidentally, Santa Ana, gets some mighty fine publicity in the "Clothing and Furnishings" magazine. The article is illustrated with a large half-tone picture of the store-front and show-windows, and several facsimiles of Hill and Carden advertisements in the "Register" are printed.

In part the article reads as follows:

"There are, approximately, 20,000 people in the thriving Southern California city of Santa Ana, and every day one-third of all these people pay a visit to the Hill & Carden store on Fourth street near Main. The store has a good many methods by which it draws this crowd to its doors. First and foremost is newspaper advertising. Every day the store uses approximately the same space in the paper, the same size of copy, the same make-up and about the same sized space. The advertisements run Saturdays, the day before a holiday, just as regularly as on other days of the week. The store believes in not missing a day."

"We feel this way about our newspaper advertising," said Mr. Hill: "The biggest asset the clothing store has, in my opinion, is its location. It is the location of the store and the general appearance of the store and its regular service that makes the lasting impression on people which causes them to turn to the store instinctively whenever they are in the market for any of the goods it is selling. Continuity of impression, in other words, is the biggest sort of a help to the clothing in building up a good business."

"Now, just as we wouldn't close up our store for a few days when the weather was bad, or when business was a little off, so we wouldn't stay out of the newspaper for a day or two at a time or for longer periods. It is the continuity of impression in advertising that we are looking for, and this continuity of impression may best be secured by keeping everlastingly at it."

HORTON FAVORS SALARY RAISE FOR TEACHERS

"Teachers seeking an increase in salary should not make the mistake of comparing their work with that of persons of small earning capacity. As trained persons, holding their positions on certificates based on college education and years of special training, they have a right to compare their work and earnings with those of professionally trained people."

This is the opinion voiced by Dr. Roy S. Horton, member of the Santa Ana school board, who stated today that he is in sympathy with such revision of the salary schedule as will give Santa Ana teachers the same pay as is offered in other California cities of equal size.

He added that the pay should be such as will induce the best teachers to remain in the system, and thus lessen the number of resignations and the volume of turnover in the teaching force.

Head-Hunting Is Passe In Borneo

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Head-hunting is passe in Borneo, according to Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, of London, world's champion woman traveler, visiting Los Angeles.

Mrs. Cameron has covered more than a million miles in her globe-trotting, and recently made a trip to Borneo.

"Head-hunters are practically gone," she said. "White men have so terrorized the natives with threats of burning their villages that they no longer hunt the heads of their enemies."

"The feminine globe-trotter had there was an abundance of crocodiles in Borneo. Their favorite food is monkeys and little native children," she said.

"Of course they will not pass

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS MAY REPLACE WHITTER POETS IN FAST SOUTHLAND LOOP

Glendale high school, Southern California prep football champions last fall and runner-up to Long Beach the previous season, probably will be a member of the Coast Preparatory league next year. The Dynamiters, always potent in things athletic, may take the place of Whittier, a game little school but which has found the going too tough against such large institutions as San Diego, Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Ana and Fullerton.

Already rated as the most powerful interscholastic organization in the Southland, the Coast league will be even more formidable with Glendale in the race for football, basketball, track and baseball honors.

Whittier has not officially withdrawn and Glendale will not be a full-fledged member until the C.I.F. holds its annual meeting in Los Angeles and approves its transfers from the Central league to the Coast Preparatory loop. At this session it is assumed that the C. I. F. will "ok" the change and recommend that Whittier replace Glendale in the Central league in which schools more of its size are grouped.

Will Be Drawing Card
Glendale has a large field from which to draw athletes, and for years has figured strongly in every branch of sport. The Dynamiters will be a big drawing card all over the circuit and the Coast Preparatory league was fortunate in obtaining them as a member.

The application from Glendale came as a surprise for the meeting was called ostensibly for the purpose of hearing Santa Ana's protest of its 5 to 4 baseball defeat at the hands of Whittier several weeks ago.

At the same time Long Beach officials put in a "kick" over a play that resulted in a reversal for the Jackrabbits in their fracas with the Poets so the little Whittier school was a real storm center. After considerable talk over technicalities during which Whittier authorities offered to forfeit its game to Santa Ana, a suggestion refused by Coach Lynn Kidman, the matter was dropped without any action being taken.

No Action on Protest
Subsequent games removed both Santa Ana and Long Beach as championship contenders, leaving the way to the title clear for "Shorty" Smith's Fullerton Redlegs, so there was nothing to be gained if the Santa Ana-Whittier or the Long Beach-Whittier matches were replayed.

The league discussed problems, chiefly financial difficulties, in sending athletic teams to San Diego. This matter finally was adjusted with a verbal promise by San Diego representatives to guarantee Santa Ana, Fullerton and Whittier, the three small schools in the league, expenses totaling $6 for each of not more than 20 men. Long Beach and Pasadena will "ramble" with the Southerners, dividing the gate receipts on a fifty-fifty basis.

S. A. BOWLERS IN MONEY IRVINE IN FAST LEAGUE

WIN DIVISION TITLE; FLUORS GET 2650 PINS

(Special to The Register)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The Gingham Dog and Calico Cat cafe team of Santa Ana clinched first place in the 800 class in the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress here last night when it tallied 2497 pins for its three games.

The Fluor Construction company, quints of Santa Ana, went into fourteenth place in the unlimited division when they shot 2650. The Fluors had a wonderful chance to take first place when they finished their second game with more than 1800 pins but 12 splits and several "blows" in the final game put them out of the running for the Pacific Coast championship.

All teams in the 800 class have bowled, thus clinching the title for the Gingham Dog and Calico Cat cafe squad.

The Calico Cats went on the drives with four other teams in its class. They shot $46 for an opener, crashed over $64 in the second and wound up with 787.

Max Ames had both high game and high series for both Santa Ana outfits. He had a 223 game and a 565 series. "Stormy" Gordon's 564 series was next for the major division quintette.

Max Ames had both high game and high series for both Santa Ana outfits. He had a 223 game and a 565 series. "Stormy" Gordon's 564 series was next for the major division quintette.

H. B. Woods topped the Gingham Dog and Calico Cat cafe squad with 548. Don Keir, who had best game of 215 for this team, was next with 538. Woods' 202 game was second high for the Calico Cats.

H. B. Woods, Don Keir, Charlie Dawson, Mason Yould and Herman Ekfer were in the lineup for the Calico Cats while Max Ames, Guy Martin, Bill Gordon, "Larry" Larsson and Penny Jones bowled for the Fluors.

The Santa Ana pin-getters took the alleys at 11 o'clock this morning to shoot their doubles. They were to roll their singles at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A team of Philadelphia cricketers has about completed arrangements for a brief tour of eastern Canada in July. Games have been scheduled in Toronto, London, Montreal and Ottawa.

British football coaches are now employed in France, Spain, Italy and other continental countries.

Plan Formation Of Baseball League Tonight

Representatives from almost every baseball team in Orange county are expected to be in the front row tonight when steps are taken to organize a baseball league at the Walker sporting goods store, 205 West Fourth street, here.

Plans have advanced far enough so that an association of not less than six clubs is assured, it is understood. It is highly probable that two and possibly four more teams will cast their lot with the starters.

Clubs interested in the project have been requested to send only one representative to the meeting in order to facilitate organization problems.

THELMA PATTON IN BIG COURT TOURNEY

Miss Thelma Patton, Santa Ana star who won the girls' first singles in the Coast League matches, will have a chance to annex more honors Saturday in the Southern California tournament to be held at Fullerton high school.

Court stars from numerous Southland high schools will compete. Elimination sets will be played in the morning beginning at 9 o'clock. The final meets at which the sectional championships will be decided are to be held in the afternoon.

HIGH-BINDERS WIN FROM BEARS, 22-7

The High-Binders, champions of last year's Y. M. C. A. Comrade indoor ball league, struck their old stride last night when they defeated the Bears of the Richland Ave. M. E. church by a score of 22 to 7.

BEGIN BATTLE FOR DIAMOND TITLE SUNDAY

Irvine, long the baseball peer of Orange county, will go in quest of the semi-professional championship of Southern California.

This became definitely known today when the Beaniepickers officially enrolled in the Summer Major league and began "building" to compete with such speedy clubs as the Long Beach Shell Oils, Petroleum Midways, Pacific Electric, Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oilers and Pasadena.

First games were played last Sunday with Shell Oil dumping the C. C. M. O. outfit, 7 to 2, and the Petroleum Midways trouncing the Pacific Electric, 3 to 1. Irvine will meet Pasadena later in the season to make up for its late start. The Beaniepickers make their initial bid for the flag next Sunday on their home lot when they tangle with the Pacific Electric. The enrollment of Irvine in this fast company will give local fans a chance to see great baseball during the summer months for such clever ball players as "Bunny" Fabrice, "Firebrand George" Stovall, Carl Crandall, Frank Metz, Billy Orr, Ford Tally, "Red" Andrews and Ray Bates have been signed by other teams in the league.

Irvine's first step to strengthen was taken today when Al Miller, formerly of the Vernon Tigers and the Hammond Lumber company, was signed for pitching duty. One or two other players also are being sought.

The season schedule follows:

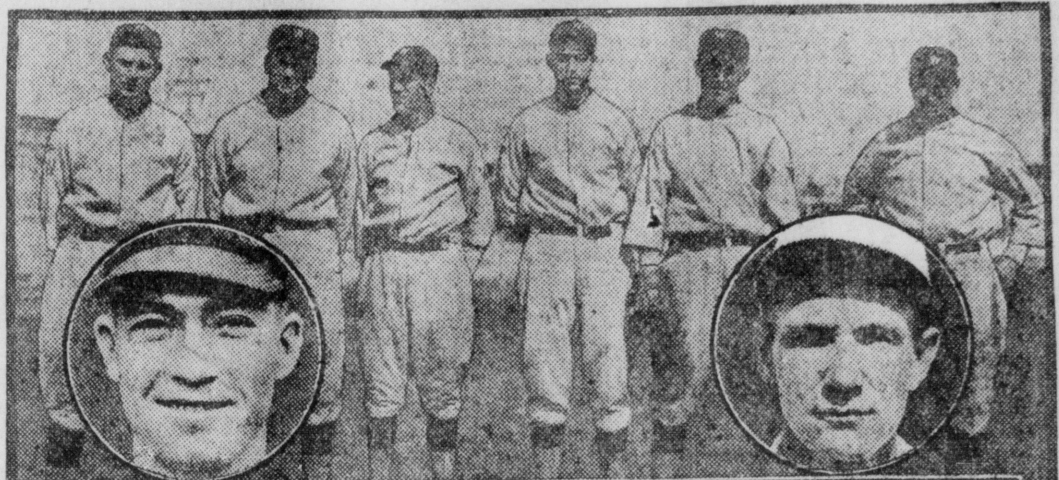

First Round
May 17—Pasadena at Shell Oil; Pacific Electric at Irvine; Petroleum Midway at C. C. M. O.
May 24—Petroleum Midway at Shell Oil; Pacific Electric at Pasadena; C. C. M. O. at Irvine.
May 31—Pacific Electric at Shell Oil; Petroleum Midway at Irvine; Pasadena at C. C. M. O.

Denny Gets Draw In Schoell Bout

OAKLAND, May 14.—If Frankie Schoell, of Buffalo, N. Y., had not caught Frankie Denny of Oakland on the jaw in the eighth for a knockdown he would not have received a draw last night. Denny's wild style of fighting had the easterner puzzled most of the way and Denny put up the best fight of his career.

VETERANS KEEP WASHINGTON IN TITLE RACE

Here is Washington's pitching staff, the greatest collection of antique arms, right and left, in the major leagues. Marberry is the only kid in the octette. Last season, his second in the majors, he won the reputation of being the "iron-arm" of the league, the greatest relief pitcher in the American.

Marberry is the "kid" of the staff, while Vean Gregg, a big league star 12 years ago, is the "daddy."

EDISONS GRAB FREAK FRACAS AT POLY PARK

The Southern California Edison company's indoor baseball team defeated the Excelsior Creamery company's crew, 7 to 6, in last night's City league contest at the Poly grounds that rivaled any played this season for thrills, trick plays and spectacular fielding.

To begin with it was the toughest sort of a fracas for "Tex" Bergman, the bronzed Excelsior under-slugging thrower, to lose. Bergman, pitched a beautiful game but his support wasn't anything to brag about and a couple of the most unusual plays seen on an indoor field hurt his chances.

"Jug" Walters, Edison first sacker, got a "home run" that had the big crowd gasping for breath. Walters hit a twister in front of the plate and the ball caromed crazily backward, eluded Catcher Babcock and rolled to the backstop. Walters dashed for second, went to third when Babcock threw wildly to catch him and came on home when Ranney's toss from the out-field eluded Brejle.

Melton, Edison shortstop, made a couple of dizzy catches at right shortstop and one of them cut off a pair of Excelsior runs. Melton's three-bagger also figured in the Pole-Climbers' win.

The league-leading McFaddens faced the Robertson Electric crew tonight. Orlyna Robertson, the star chucker of the Electricians will be back on the job so the Robertsons may make it interesting for "Eeny" Wilcox and his band. The box score:

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Paavo Nurmi, world's champion Finnish runner, will sail for home May 28, it was announced here today. Before sailing, Nurmi will give several exhibitions and will compete in a meet to be staged at the Yankee stadium by the Finnish-American A. C. on May 26 when he will make an attempt to break Ted Meredith's record for the half mile. He will also try to better his record for the mile in a special race to be staged in the Harvard stadium on May 22.

At football games in Switzerland it is the custom to present the captain of the visiting team with a bouquet of roses before the beginning of play.

Poly Treasury Low; Games Are Cancelled

Almost at that point where they can look down and see the dimes at the bottom of the treasury sock, members of the Santa Ana high school board of control have voted to cancel the two remaining trips of the Poly baseball team—those to San Pedro and Lincoln high school, Los Angeles.

The bank account of the school has dwindled to such an embarrassing state that the athletic moguls thought it best to struggle through the rest of the season with as little expense as possible.

BEATTY LEADS POLY HITTERS; DALEY SECOND

Blanchard ("Snowy") Beatty, a youngster who didn't even know he could play baseball until two months ago, is leading the Santa Ana high school team's hitters with an individual average of .479, according to figures compiled today.

Ed Daley, shortstop and lead-off man, is hitting second and his record is unusual also in that he has played in every game this season. His average is .427. Daley is followed by Harold Pea, diminutive utility outfielder, who is sticking .375. Willard Middlebrook, with .344, follows Pea. Other Polyites over the 300 mark are Randolph Bell, Ray Smith and Captain Arold Norton.

Captain Norton is the team's leading base-stealer. He has swiped 34 bags during the season and is far ahead of the rest of his teammates. Reister ranks second in the second-story art with 16 thefts. Norton also is the team's best run-getter, having crossed home plate 33 times. Daley is pressing him hard for honors in this department for he has tallied 31 times. Reister is third with 29 runs.

The team has played 27 games and has won 20 of these. One contest was tied and six were lost.

LOCAL LEGION WILL SPONSOR TRACK CLASSIC

Agreement was reached today whereby the big Orange County A. A. U. track and field meet, to be held at Poly field here, will be sponsored by Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion. Plans for the classic will be worked out by a group of junior college and high school athletes under the direction of Charles Webber but the World War veterans will be in charge and will receive all gate receipts above necessary expenses.

At the same time it was officially announced by Webber that the classic will be held Saturday June 6 instead of on May 30 at the request of the Legion's executive committee. The date was shifted so that the meet will not interfere with Memorial Day ceremonies that have been planned by the Legion and other patriotic bodies here.

A full card of A. A. U. events has been scheduled with at least two special contests for Orange county girl athletes as a side attraction. A flock of former county men athletes, now starring on college teams, are expected to compete.

Tentative plans call for a special mile race between Unruh of El Monte and Carnahan of Riverside, the two most sensational prep distance runners in the state, and a match battle between the Pomona and Occidental college half-mile relay squads. Pomona already has agreed to this race providing a suitable opponent, preferably Oxy, could be obtained. Unruh and Carnahan told "How" Paul, the great little Poly broad-jumper, they would race here while these athletes were on their way home from Stanford where they competed in the state interscholastic meet last Saturday.

BOWLING

CHANDLERS FORFEIT TO KELLEY DRUGGISTS

The Kelley Drug company went into a tie with The Register for second place in the Winter league when the Chandler Furniture company team forfeited four points last night. Swift and Company meets the Ehlen Plumbing company tonight and if the Swifts win four points the Broadway title is theirs. If they take three points they will be tied for the lead with the Orange County Trust and Savings bank. If they are held to 50-50 break the championship goes to the Bakers with the Swifts tied to the Kelleys and The Register for second money.

NEWS FROM ANAHEIM

MORE BUILDING SEEN IN CITY: BANK FINISHED

ANAHEIM, May 14.—"A city's prosperity and ability to forge ahead is gauged by the size and number of its business buildings." Such is the contention of building authorities throughout the country. If there is "more truth than poetry" in that phrase, then the dull period that has existed in Anaheim, as in most other cities in the United States, will be short lived.

Bank Building Completed. In addition to the completion, recently, of the new fireproof First National bank building, erected by Samuel Kraemer, of Placentia, at an approximate cost of $400,000, plans were revealed yesterday, by M. Eugene Durfee, Anaheim architect, for the erection here soon, of another large building, representing an investment of approximately $100,000.

The new structure will be built by the Pickwick Stage company, and will be located on South Los Angeles street, next to the Anaheim library. It will be a two-story erection, and will house, on the ground floor, besides a stage depot of ample size, several store sites.

The Pickwick company has intimated that the second story of the building, which will be constructed of brick, in Spanish design, will be devoted to hotel purposes, but definite plans have not as yet been announced.

Bank Ready for Occupancy. According to Mr. Durfee, to whom the architectural work of the First National bank building was entrusted, the structure is now ready for occupancy, with the exception of the ground floor, where the bank will be located. A number of tenants already have moved into the building, and leases for other suites are now pending.

The structure, to be known as the Samuel Kraemer building, is six stories high and is, no doubt, one of the finest equipped in this section of the state. There is only one other six-story building in Orange county, that being located in Santa Ana.

The first floor of the building will be ready for occupancy about June 1, bank equipment being installed now by the Sweetzer and Baldwin company, of Los Angeles. There are 75 office rooms in the building and no difficulty is anticipated in renting them. The rooms are finished in mahogany and present an attractive appearance in every respect.

With the exception of the steel frame work and the steel joist, which were furnished and installed, respectively, by the Union Iron Works, and William H. Wilson, of Los Angeles, the remaining contracts, during the course of construction, were let to Anaheim firms and individuals.

The mechanical and heating equipment of the building were furnished and installed by H. H. Armstrong, the plumbing was done by Fred Garrison, and the electric work by J. J. Farley. Terra cotta for the building's decorative designs, was obtained from the Tropical Pottery, of Glendale.

Special Quarters for Doctors. A feature of the architectural designs prepared by Mr. Durfee and executed in the erection of the building, was the provision, on the entire fifth floor, and a part of the sixth, of suites built especially for the accommodation of physicians, surgeons and dentists.

The structure is equipped with excellent systems of ventilation and heating which will maintain an even temperature during all kinds of weather and throughout all seasons.

A beautiful marble stairway to the upper floors, access to which is gained from Claudia street, greatly enhances the mahogany and marble decorated corridors. Two elevators are now in commission in the building.

Those who already have leased space in the building follow: Dr. E. B. Heying, Dr. W. V. Fallis, Dr. J. W. Wilson, Dr. J. L. Beebe, Dr. H. G. Carlin, Dr. C. P. Thompson, Dr. C. S. O'Toole, Dr. John P. Brastad, Curtis Case, insurance agent, and Eysenboard and Fisher, real estate agents.

Rev. Geissinger Is Endorsed In Club Resolution

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Passing a resolution of thanks and appreciation of the work done in the community by Rev. James A. Geissinger, pastor of the First Methodist church here, the Realty board went on record unanimously as approving the attitude taken in both city affairs and church affairs by the Rev. Geissinger during the controversies which have been raging in Anaheim for several months.

Rev. Geissinger, who was a guest of the organization at its regular noon luncheon, gave a short address on "The Home." George Reed, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was present and gave a short talk. Several women were present at the meeting, a special table being reserved for them.

Anaheim Man Is Hurt In Crash Near Bakersfield

ANAHEIM, May 14.—John W. Weaver, local oil well drilling contractor, was one of a party of three persons injured when an automobile in which they were riding overturned on the Union-avenue highway several miles south of Bakersfield at an early hour yesterday morning.

Weaver received a broken arm, according to reports received by his wife here this morning.

Two other persons injured in the crash were Laura Peddicord, of Hollywood, and Peggy Goldbaum, of Los Angeles. Joe Donohue, of Bakersfield, who was also an occupant of the machine escaped uninjured.

According to Mrs. Weaver, her husband left yesterday for Bakersfield on a business trip. She said that she expected him home this afternoon.

According to reports from Bakersfield, the cause of the accident was not determined. C. C. Kearnes, of Bakersfield, took injured to the hospital. The two women were treated at the San Joaquin hospital.

FILES APPEAL FOR FULL FREIGHT FEES

James C. Davis, representative of the federal government assigned to the task of collecting freight under-charges occurring while the railroads were under federal control, today sought to reverse a decision he recently suffered in Justice K. E. Morrison's court, when judgment for various amounts against the Holly Sugar company and Southern California Sugar company was denied.

The director general's appeals, in connection with three cases brought in justice court, were filed in superior court through his attorneys, W. I. Gilbert and Kenneth Koepfer, of Los Angeles. The sums involved aggregate approximately $350.

The government, according to the complaints on file, failed to collect full freight charges upon coke shipped from Milwaukee to the defendant sugar companies at La Balsa, during 1919. In justice court, it was revealed that the sugar companies, in paying the freight bills, had deducted amounts to cover alleged shortage in shipments. Their further defense was that the actions against them were barred by the statute of limitations, by the provisions of the interstate commerce act, the federal transportation act and the California code of civil procedure. Attorneys O'Melveny, Miller, Tuller and MacNeil, and Paul Fussell, represent the sugar companies.

Spanish Royalty Will Visit Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Dr. Jeronimo Megias, physician to King Alfonso and Queen Elizabeth of Spain, has arrived here on the Cunard liner Franconia, bringing word that the royal pair will visit San Francisco for the diamond jubilee celebration in September.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS BOOSTS TOWN

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Orange groves in the vicinity of Anaheim are bringing record prices, with quotations steadily mounting. More business blocks have been built in Anaheim during the last three years than in any other city of similar size in Southern California.

Business and residence property in Anaheim is steadily increasing in value.

These were declarations of C. C. Sidnam, secretary of the Anaheim Realty board.

Sidnam declared that people in Anaheim are well satisfied with conditions and are hanging on to their property.

"There is no general rush to get rid of property, and we find that there is no more property listed for sale than is the usual ratio for a town of this size. Buyers are coming into town in a little better than the usual ratio," Sidnam declared.

Record Price For Groves. Three orange groves in the Anaheim district are said to have sold during the past few weeks at record prices. One 10-acre grove owned by Theodore Elmers was reported to have brought $45,000.

J. Sweeney, was also reported to have sold a 12-acre orange grove for a consideration of $4700 per acre. Prices on orange groves have been ranging from $4500 to $5000 per acre. The sales made recently were reported to be for cash.

Country property is rapidly increasing in price, according to Sidnam, who stated that wealthy people were establishing summer homes on orange ranches which would assure them an excellent income.

Vacant Houses Are Fewer. There are fewer vacant houses in Anaheim than there has been during the past year, and fewer of office and store buildings are now for rent, it was declared by Sidnam.

In a recent canvass of the town it was shown that of the hundreds of office and store buildings in the city only 32 rooms were standing unoccupied. More live inquiries have been made of local realtors during the past three months than any period for more than a year, it is reported.

People coming into the town are building homes, according to realtors. The promoter and contractor who builds to sell is not flourishing so much in the town but good, solid home-seeking people are claimed to be settling in Anaheim. That more homes are now being built than during any period for the past year, was the declaration of realtors.

General conditions in the town, including excellent school systems, municipal improvements, recreation grounds, public parks and other civic features are said by the realtors to be influencing many people, especially eastern tourists who are looking for a location to settle here. All of the realtors were optimistic in predictions for the summer, fall and winter seasons.

Steal Ford With Gas Tank Empty; Woman Baffled

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Many are the startling claims that have been made in behalf of "Lizzie" Ford, but Anaheim police have uncovered one that, so far as is known, is unsurpassed. As a result the "coppers" are searching for a certain Ford, one that will run without gas.

At least this is the belief of the owner, Mrs. Anna McKinney of 605 East Center street, who filed a report at the local police station yesterday, stating that her Ford coupe, which was left unattended on the highway between here and Long Beach while her son was in search of gasoline for the machine, was stolen.

She reports that her son was driving the car at the time and it ran out of gas at a lonely spot along the road. He left the machine beside the road while he went in search for fuel and when he returned it was gone. The license number was 724-999 and the engine number 6462318.

SCHOOL IS TOPIC OF COLLEGE HEAD

ANAHEIM, May 14.—The relationship of home and school, the parents' duty to their school-attending children and the work being accomplished in the schools of today were explained to a large audience in the high school auditorium here last night, by Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of the principal speaker on the program in observance of "Public School Week."

Dr. Dexter outlined the purposes of the annual observance, which is sponsored throughout California by the Masonic organization, and left an impression on his listeners as to what must be done in the way of cooperation if successful results are to be forthcoming from the schools.

In addition to Dr. Dexter's address, a dramatic sketch was presented by a student cast of the high school, and several selections were played by the school orchestra.

Find Bodies and Weird Curses In Home of Negro

CAMDEN, N. J., May 14.—Mysterious memoranda, which name persons listed "to go" and others "to be ruined," have been uncovered by police while investigating the home of the 71-year-old negro who, police declare, was voodoo doctor here.

The "doctor" calls himself, "the Rev. Ebbinger H. H. Hyzchock." He was held without bail after the finding in tunnels and caverns beneath his home of bodies of two infants and bones of an arm. Hyzchock told police he has been married five times and is father of 37 children.

The notes discovered bore no addresses. "Mary and Jim are both to go," one entry said. "Mrs. Mattie Gibson—her husband Alfred must be ruined." "Thomas Herring and Laura Herring are to go as far as God's winds and waters will carry," were other entries.

Hyzchock's 7-year-old daughter declared her father had shot a "light-colored" woman and had buried her in a cemetery here. The father denied the child's story, saying she had "great imagination." The "doctor" explained the anatomical specimens as gifts of a Philadelphia physician.

EXHIBITORS AT VALENCIA SHOW SHATTER MARKS

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Industrial exhibits at the Orange show to be given here this year promise to be the largest and most interesting ever shown at any similar show in Southern California, according to those in charge of the division at the show headquarters today.

More than 100 exhibitors have arranged for space. More than one-half of this number are Orange county concerns. About 40 spaces have been reserved by industrial concerns from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Venice, San Bernardino, Chicago and San Francisco.

S. A. Merchants Get Space More than 15 of the exhibits which will be shown in the huge industrial tent will be placed there by Santa Ana merchants.

Prominent among the industrial exhibits in the tent, and one which will cause attraction in Orange county, is the display of the Western Agriculture Service company, of Covina, which will have an exhibit of orchard heating apparatus.

Plans for a huge fashion show to be given in the main tent during the evening of June 1 were announced today by Herman Stern, general manager of the Orange show. F. L. Harden, chairman of the entertainment committee, will be in charge of the fashion display. Anaheim merchants will furnish the dresses which will be displayed by a number of prominent local beauties.

Potato Peeling Colored Boy Is Sought by Police

ANAHEIM, May 13.—Lunch and $18 was what it cost Chef Wardlow of the Broiler cafe to allow a strange negro boy to peel potatoes for the noon day meal at restaurant Tuesday. The boy applied at the cafe for work to earn his dinner and was promptly given the task of peeling potatoes after which he ate a hasty lunch and left the establishment. When Wardlow prepared to return home in the evening, he discovered that $18 in currency which had been placed in his coat that was hanging in the kitchen, was missing. The boy is being traced in Los Angeles.

Former First Lady Waits With Crowds

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The wife of a former President of the United States stood in a crowded line for more than an hour yesterday to enter the White House over which she once reigned.

Among the hundreds of visitors who waited to shake hands with President Coolidge was a delegation of the Colonial Dames of America. They waited patiently until the doors of the President's office were thrown open and they were permitted to file past him for a brief greeting.

Mrs. William Howard Taft, former first lady of the land, whose husband is now chief justice of the supreme court, was a member of the Colonial Dames delegation. She waited with the rest.

GOING FAR NORTH WITH MIXED CARGO

SEATTLE, May 14.—The schooner Boxer, the government's educational ship, has sailed from here for Alaskan ports, outposts in the Bering sea and Arctic ocean.

Eighty thousand feet of lumber on board will build the first government industrial school in Alaska for natives. Government schools, hospitals and camps will receive their annual supplies and provisions from the Boxer, and human beings in isolated places will get their once-a-year mail delivery.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Trowbridge, honeymooners and graduates from the University of Idaho, are aboard and are going to a station at Togiak bay. Miss L. B. Reed, of Powder, Ore., is going as a commercial teacher, matron and linguist.

Dolly Flynn, 17, youngest passenger on board, is a comely boy-hatted Indian girl, going home after 12 years at a school in Salem, Oregon.

"Science has not only increased the length of human life, but has cut in half, to 11 days, the average length of a patient's stay in a hospital," Dr. Ball said.

OFFICERS NOW HAVE PISTOL RANGE OF OWN

Encouraged by their showing against the strong Pasadena pistol team, members of the Orange Peace Officers association have erected a new range near Olive, where they shoot daily.

The range, located one mile east of Olive, is said to be equipped much better than the old National Guard range at Orange County park, and is more centrally located for all officers.

Claude Rogers, city marshal of Santa Ana, has been appointed manager of the new range, and F. G. Yoder, motorcycle officer, is captain and range master. C. P. Nichols, chief of Anaheim, and O. W. Wilson, Fullerton chief, have been appointed as directors of the new range.

Take Official Scores According to a statement made by Yoder today, official scores can be registered on the range every Thursday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. There will be an official on the range at that time for officers who want their scores recorded. The range will be open at all times for practice shooting.

Several officers from the Santa Ana police department, as well as from other forces, have made unusually high scores on the new range in the past several days, many of which were higher than the marks scored by the Pasadena team in the competition with Orange county several weeks ago.

There are a number of Orange county officers who have not shot over the range, and these are being urged to "try their luck" on Thursdays.

Jailor Makes 174 Joe Irvine, deputy county jailer, who had never been on a range before last week, made a score of 174 out of a possible 200. He was shooting a short barreled pistol, and shot over the 15, 25 and 50 yard ranges. Irvine is expected to become one of the outstanding stars of the county team, and, according to other officers, should be shooting 190 within a few weeks.

Several Santa Ana city officers have made scores of 170 and better during the last week, over the new range. No more outside competition will be sought by the local team, until after every officer in the county has been given a chance on the range, Yoder said.

"We feel we can put a team in the field that can beat any team in Southern California, but we want to see who are our best men before we challenge another team," Yoder stated. He said the Pasadena team would be brought here for a return shoot before long, and that the best men in the county would represent Orange county at that time.

Bans Praise for Prohibition In New Dry Posters

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Andrews has banned all praise of prohibition in the $50,000 poster campaign the federal dry bureau will spring on the country after July 1.

Andrews has limited the slogans to be borne on the posters strictly to phrases urging and extolling respect for all law and the constitution, making the campaign of general "law observance," and not simply "prohibition observance."

have been received by the bureau from temperance organizations, but nearly all have been discarded because they stress observance of the dry law above others.

COMMUNITY CHEST TO NAME OFFICERS

June 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, is the time set for the annual election of officers of the Santa Ana Community Chest. The annual meeting was called yesterday by the directors of the Community Chest at their monthly meeting at Boy Scout headquarters on North Sycamore street.

The meeting is to be held at the new Chamber of Commerce building. Those entitled to vote at this meeting includes the directors of each of the organizations represented in the Community Chest.

The report of the secretary, R. E. Dye, showed that up to date approximately $21,000 of the pledges made last November have been collected, leaving but $11,000 to be collected during the rest of the year.

Bills paid yesterday totaled $8.75, the charges being for supplies. No bills were incurred last month and but one small bill the previous month. This was pointed to as showing the economical methods used by the Community Chest board.

The directors have agreed to include in the coming year's budget, or in forthcoming budgets, sums sufficient to meet the obligation of Santa Ana post, American Legion, in relation to the National Endowment fund. The amount needed for the local quota has not been determined. By this agreement, Santa Ana is saved going through the June endowment drive that would be necessary had not the agreement been made.

SHORTRIDGE PLANS SURVEY OF MOJAVE

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—A bill calling for a federal water survey of the Mojave desert, designed to lead to the cultivation of thousands of acres of arid desert lands, will be presented to the next session of congress, it was revealed here by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge.

Senator Shortridge said the measure would call for a survey of the desert to ascertain the practicability of sinking wells to tap the vast subterranean rivers which it is believed certain are running under the immense waste area.

Modern pumps and drilling machinery have made such plan of irrigation feasible, the senator said.

"It is proposed to have the government appropriate funds so that a survey of the desert can be made and each section charted to show how deep water lies," he said.

"Much of this water, we know, is only 100 or 200 feet under the ground. The sections so proved in the survey will be immediately taken up by homesteaders, who will be able to drill wells and irrigate their farms at comparatively small cost."

Anaheim Man May Put Up $25,000 Bldg. In Orange

ORANGE, May 14.—That the city of Orange may soon be presented with another fine business building, was the revelation made yesterday by H. H. Benjamin, cashier of the First National bank, in Anaheim, who declared that if tenants are available he is prepared to expend $25,000 for the erection of a building on the North Glassell street property owned by him.

The new building, if erected, will be located next to the Adams theater, now under construction at a cost of $100,000, and will represent a 60-foot frontage on Glassell street. Three store rooms, built to suit tenants, are planned.

According to Mr. Benjamin's plans, the new building would be of mission architecture. The proposed structure will present an attractive terra cotta front, with plate glass trimmings.

ORANGE MAN IS ARRESTED FOR ZONE SPEEDING

ORANGE, May 14.—If the speed of his tongue can be employed as a means of gauging the speed of his car, then B. G. Wallace is apt to draw a heavy fine when he appears in Recorder's court here tomorrow to face charges of speeding according to "Pat" Hurd, motorcycle officer, who arrested Wallace for speeding through a school zone.

Wallace proved himself an orator in every respect according to Hurd, who declares that hardly had he signalled him to stop, than he began an "impenetrable flow of speech."

"You will have to remain quiet a few minutes at least, if you expect me to inform you what the charge is," said the exasperated Hurd, finally, "or else I will have to write it for you."

W. C. Eaton, of Whittier, was fined $25 yesterday by Recorder Ingle, on a charge of reckless driving. Eaton was arrested by L. J. Heffner, state motorcycle officer, for speeding down the El Modena grade, it was said.

Leon Brown, of San Pedro, appeared in Recorder's court today, and swelled the city coffers to the extent of $15, he being charged with speeding through the Chapman street school zone.

Seal Beach Folk Better Behaved Court Books Show

SEAL BEACH, May 14.—Arrests for traffic violation netted $5714 in fines, according to the annual report of City Recorder G. H. Morrison. Either the people are better or the officers are more lenient in the "good old summer time." Nine persons were fined a total of $977 last June, and fifty-eight were fined $205 in February.

Fines collected for intoxication amounted to $2085.50. Fines totaling $5060 were netted from 47 arrests for possession of liquors. Only three persons were sentenced to jail.

Six men were fined for traffic violation last week. Walter H. Griswold of Long Beach paid $10; Earl McKinley, Los Angeles, $25; Dan C. Sill, Taft, $40; William A. Jackson, $50; H. F. Houckin, Willowbrook, $20; E. A. Edwards, Los Angeles, $10.

ASK S. A. CHIEF FOR HINTS ON TAGGING AUTOS

So well has the Santa Ana police department coped with violations of the parking ordinance that the city of Long Beach is eager to know the secret of Chief Claude Rogers' success in tagging automobiles which are left too long on busy streets.

Chief Rogers received a letter from the Long Beach police department yesterday, signed by H. L. Dodge, who asked for sample tags and a short outline of the system employed here.

The letter in part reads: "I am informed that your city has a splendid system of tagging cars which violate the parking ordinance and that your system makes friends instead of enemies. That is what I would like to introduce into the police department of Long Beach."

"I feel more or less complimented by receiving the letter," Chief Rogers said today. "We have always tried to be courteous when making arrests for these minor violations, and our system is indeed a good one. Like Long Beach, Santa Ana officers are eager to make friends with all motorists and citizens of the city, even though they do break the city ordinance at times."

Rogers today mailed the tags and information to Dodge.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, May 14.—"This spring and the cows are beginning to eat garlic. The agriculture department is experimenting with ways to take the taste and smell of it out of milk and butter."

"Garlic," comments the public health service, "is a wholesome vegetable." "Yes," admits the agricultural department, "but so many people object to dairy products flavored with it."

Meanwhile Washington milk retailers employ official smellers to sniff at each bottle of milk before putting it on the market. If garlicky, back it goes to the farmer. Otherwise it would be left on the shelves' heads, for consumers won't have it at any price.

"Thank God," they're whispering among themselves at the state department, "it was an English shipmaster, not an American, whose vessel 'stood by' while all 38 of the crew of the Japanese cargo boat Reifuku drowned in the North Atlantic." Officials are chary of saying anything aloud that might be construed as unfavorably critical of Capt. John Roberts of the Homeric. But there's no mistaking the way they feel.

"They're only Japs—let 'em drown!"

That's how Japan would have read the mind of an American commander who had had such a story as Captain Roberts' to tell. At all events, the state department thinks so. Things of that kind count in international relationships.

It would look so much better if Captain Roberts had but a single rescue to his credit, in evidence of a resolute effort. Or if he could report having cruised for an hour over the lost ship's grave, looking for survivors, though at the risk of scratching his paint or even smashing a propeller blade on the wreckage. I've seen a captain delay a 5000-ton vessel four and one-half times seven minutes trying to save a dog lost overboard.

The Pan American union is getting stacks of queries from people who, if South America is going to develop during the next 50 years as the United States has developed during the last 50, which is what General Pershing predicts, wants to get in on it.

General Pershing, like most tourists who spend a couple of weeks finding out all about the southern republics, missed a few items of information.

South of the Tropic of Capricorn there really is a vast area of fine unoccupied farm land, but the laws discourage its settlement. Farther north the laws are more liberal, but much of the country is equatorial jungle, so thick that it has to be tunneled, rather than cut, through. And as fast as cleared, it grows up again. South America will develop, but nothing like as fast as this country.

THREE INJURED IN TRUCK CRASH

ORANGE, May 14.—Three persons were injured yesterday afternoon, in Villa Park, when a service truck, driven by Otto Buer, of the Orana garage, collided with a vegetable truck driven by Ray Tibbets, of Orange.

The service truck, proceeding west, struck the vegetable truck, as it was being backed out of a driveway. Both cars were badly damaged.

Williams' injuries consist of severe cuts and bruises, while Buer escaped with minor cuts.

LEARN PARTS FOR NEW LEGION PLAY

Members of the American Legion Players association are fast learning their parts for the second Legion show, "The Full House," to be staged at the Walker theater on the nights of June 4, 5 and 6, according to a statement made today. The show is expected to be the best yet staged by the former soldiers and sailors.

"The Full House" is a comedy which won fame several years ago in the east, and is rich in laugh lines. With a well-developed plot, it keeps the audience mystified and the identity of the crook in the play is not disclosed until the last curtain.

Members of the cast are rehearsing every other night on the play and the first act is ready to go on the stage.

Griff Barnett, who directed "Within the Law," is directing "The Full House." He also has a prominent part in the cast.

George Richardson, as the English butler, has a leading part in the show, while Joe Plank, who played the crook in the "Within the Law," has another important role in "The Full House." Mrs. Plank and Mrs. Lelia Baird, together with Mrs. Fannie Reeves and Mrs. George Richardson, also have important parts.

Says Chinese Are Making Progress

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Chinese people are progressing toward a stabilized government, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurmann, who is leaving his Pekin post to become ambassador to Germany, has informed President Coolidge.

Business conditions are making steady improvement in China and, although there seems no immediate prospect of a unified government, the situation is showing marked improvement, Schurmann said.

"The United States has maintained and will maintain a policy of sympathy and good will," Schurmann added. "All we desire is to see the open door to Chinese trade."

Schurmann will leave in about three weeks for Berlin to take up his new post.

TEACHERS LIKE LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, May 14.—Only three punctures in a journey covering 17 states, Mexico and Canada isn't a half bad record, but Miss Julia Hatch and Miss Elizabeth MacKenzie, school teachers from New Haven, Connecticut, did it, according to their own statement made in Laguna Beach just before they resumed their trip, this time through the Canadian Rockies.

They left New Haven last September in a closed sedan and camped out along the way, stopping in hotels if the weather was too bad. They lived in old clothes, breathed pure air and had the time of their lives and they say that when they get back to teaching school again they will be one hundred per cent more efficient in speaking of Laguna Beach they said, "this is absolutely the prettiest piece of coast we have ever seen."

FROM THE SAME STRATA

In the proposal to establish wells at West Orange, there is no disposition on the part of Santa Ana officials to take from West Orange orchardists anything without adequate, fair compensation. The city ought to be, and we believe, is anxious to pay for whatever damages may result to West Orange property owners by reason of establishment of the proposed water plant in that district. It is realized that the determination of damages will be difficult. The taking of water from an underground stratum is bound to reduce the supply for all pumping plants drawing from that same stratum. But hitherto there has been no objection raised and no steps taken to protest when some large pumping plant was established drawing water from beneath the earth. Plant after plant has gone in, and no word said.

Moreover, it should be remembered that Santa Ana is already a user of water from underground strata. In fact, Santa Ana had wells in use long before the first pumping plant was installed by an orchardist. If there is any such thing as priority in use of underground reservoirs this city is entitled to that priority by reason of longest and most consistent usage. Santa Ana, as much as any orchardist, has felt the result of the increase in the number of wells. Santa Ana at one time had artesian water. It now pumps all of its water, most of it from wells that are 1,000 feet in depth. All this is said without complaint of any sort concerning the development of pumping plant methods, but merely to bring out the point that in changing its base of pumping operations from Santa Ana to West Orange, Santa Ana will not be entering upon a new method of securing its water supply. In pumping at West Orange the city will be taking water from the same strata that it now draws from in Santa Ana. It is entirely likely, however, that wells in the immediate neighborhood will feel the effect of heavy pumping. If there is any way of reaching a fair decision as to what the damage will be, Santa Ana ought to pay, and pay cheerfully. The probability is, however, that the effect cannot be told with fairness.

The government has started an offensive against Rum Row, on the eastern coast, but it can hardly be as offensive as Rum Row has been all along.

MANCHESTER BOULEVARD

All Orange county is interested in the report that considerable progress has been made in securing rights-of-way for the extension of Manchester boulevard out of Los Angeles, paralleling the Southern Pacific tracks into Orange county. It is understood that rights-of-way have been secured for this highway all the way from above Downey to a point between Buena Park and Anaheim, and that the campaign for rights-of-way is not to stop until the short-cut highway to Los Angeles is tied into main highways leading into Santa Ana and Orange.

A few years ago, cities anxiously schemed to have traffic diverted so that it would pass through them. Traffic looked like a fine tonic to stimulate civic growth. Now, most of them have an over-dose of traffic frequently. Thousands of motorists, too, find that it takes from 10 to 50 per cent longer to journey between two given points in Southern California than it did six or eight years ago. They will welcome time-saving highways, such as the Manchester boulevard is sure to be.

Development of the Manchester boulevard need not in any way interfere with the plan to build a highway paralleling the Pacific Electric. There is room and need for both, and both will get as much traffic as they can bear.

Margot Asquith has written another "piquant scandal" book, and the most disgusting thing about it is that so many Americans will buy and read it.

MUSCLE SHOALS' VALUE

The Scientific American has had a competent man investigating Muscle Shoals, with results that may surprise the public.

The general idea has been that the big waterpower project in Alabama was destined to provide vast quantities of nitrates, especially for fertilizer. The investigator reports that of the two units so far built, of which one is complete and the other will be ready for operation by midsummer, the former is of little or no use for producing nitrates because its method and equipment are obsolete, and the latter is of doubtful value and limited capacity for that purpose.

All the nitrates they can extract from the air, he says, are a very small fraction compared with the amount required by American agriculture. Muscle Shoals, he insists, can neither produce much fertilizer nor produce it cheaply. It will probably have little effect on the fertilizer situation, even if all its available power is used for that purpose.

Is the great plant valueless then? By no means, he replies. The power is there, in the water and in the mechanical equipment. It is a great factory for the production of electric power. And the South, particularly, needs such power for its industrial development.

The obvious thing, he concludes, is to turn the power produced at Muscle Shoals into the electric super-power system that is intended to feed the industries of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

Out of the frozen North comes the statement that one of the lady Eskimos' duties is to chew sealskin to soften it preparatory to the making of shoes. Can't American gum-chewers be harnessed to some useful occupation like that?

COAL SICK AGAIN

"The coal industry is sick again, sicker than it has been for a generation," reports a correspondent who has been looking into the industry in West Virginia. "The great industry is flat on its back."

So here we have the same old story, after years of effort—mostly vocal—to reconstruct this important industry.

Why repeat the same old complaint of too many mines and too many miners and of seasonal instead of continuous operation?

Mines have, indeed, been "eliminated," but by a process of industrial war rather than an economic clean-up. In some of the biggest soft coal states, the mines closed are the strong union mines. Many miners are out of work, and many miners' families starving, and bitterness grows.

The union labor question complicates the problem badly. But the general fact holds true. There are too many men trying to work in the coal mines. And the farms need men badly. If one-third of the miners would only work aboveground!

Evil Days Are Passing

Fresno Republican.
Since the tragedy at Sarajevo in 1914 Europe has furnished a mass of news; for a few years it was most interesting news; then it became commonplace, and finally it dropped into inside page material.

Then the Dawes plan took shape, and the people took interest in European news again, and then came the elections and downfall of cabinets and other things that demanded space on the front page again.

Meanwhile the readers on this side of the ocean have waited patiently for something really good in the line of European news. The gold standard news from London is of recent day importance, and this is likely to be followed by a similar undertaking in France and in other countries of the Old World.

The latest bit of news, and the kind the people read with avidity, relates to the subject of trade with Europe. Trade and the resultant added circulation of money are what the people over here want.

The Federal Reserve board has just announced that European trade during the first quarter of this year is more than maintaining its high levels, and that indications are for a continuance of the improvement.

Germany, which all the world has been watching for years, is feeling the effect of the Dawes tonic. The improvement in that country's trade is attributable to the betterment of international relations, the stability of the currency and the large foreign loans and credits made available to the German government and German industry.

Depression, it seems, is giving way to the spirit of confidence, at least to hopefulness of still better days to come.

France is upset within itself, but it is believed by leading financiers that things in that country will adjust themselves.

Evil days that have fallen upon Europe cannot continue much longer, is the general belief, this belief being strengthened by the very things that are transpiring in the great capitals of that part of the world.

Trade being the lifeblood of every nation, there naturally follows a feeling of confidence now that the bars that have stood against prosperity for so long are falling under the pressure of increased healthy trade between the two hemispheres.

Preserve His Birthplace

Pasadena Star-News.
To preserve the birthplace of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, in Portland, Me., a campaign has been instituted, under direction of Edwin Markham, the poet. The movement is world-wide. Admirers, everywhere, of the great poet are urged to contribute to the modest fund required to make repairs on the Longfellow birthplace and to lift the mortgage thereon. The property has been cared for heretofore by the International Longfellow Society. Mr. Markham, in a statement to the public, said this:

Longfellow did his valiant part in building up the idealism of the world. His noble singing is still sounding into the material clamor of the age. Are there not enough generous men and women who will send contributions to save the birthplace, save it as a shrine, a place of pilgrimage?

This is an admirable movement. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow sang himself into the heart of mankind. His "Psalm of Life" is a trumpet call to noble living. His "Excelsior" is a bugle call to ambition and aspiration, particularly in youth. His "Evangeline" is one of the most touching poems in the language. His "Hiawatha" ranks high for picturesque beauty of imagery. While perhaps not to be ranked as the greatest poet of his age, Mr. Longfellow nevertheless was a singer whose songs will sink more deeply into the hearts of the masses everywhere as the years go on. His birthplace should be preserved as a shrine to his idealism and to his gentle philosophy of life.

Railroads Aid State

Long Beach Press-Telegram.
Travel to Southern California is being promoted by generous and striking advertising in magazines, newspapers and folders, by several great railroad systems of the East. The All-Year Club of Southern California is being apprised of much promotional publicity of this nature being put forth by Eastern and Middle Western railroads.

Railroads which have connections with trunk lines leading directly to California realize the advantage to themselves, as well as to this state, in boosting travel to California. This co-operation of the great transportation lines of the country with the promotional organizations and agencies here in California is to be welcomed. It unquestionably is of value and importance in swelling the volume of travel to this state from distant states.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

A HEALTH LADDER

Article 1

We have been told in a poetical or philosophical way that heaven is not reached at a single bound, but that we build the ladder by which we rise and we mount to its summit round by round. It is just as true and even more so in regard to our building and mounting the health ladder.

Proper, vigorous, efficient exercise is really the bottom rung of the health ladder. It is this one safe, hygienic method by which thousands of people, who pose as semi-invalids, may greatly stimulate their appetite, digestion and red-blood-making. In all the seven ages of man, the exercise game should be played with spirit.

Man wants to live long, but he goes about it in the worst way in 75 per cent of adults above 21 years of age. Some day, by accident or otherwise, he gets in touch with his physician. The information he gets almost takes his breath away. Then comes the transformation, almost pathetic in its attempt at enforcement. He is ready and willing to undergo any kind of treatment, submit to any regimen, do anything or go anywhere, if assured that his life may be extended.

The proper time to become fully interested in life expectancy is not when the undertaker is looking for you, but when one's life title is still clear and unmortgaged and there is blue sky overhead. Man is an animal of highest type, fleet of foot, strong and agile, supple and enduring. By careless, sedentary habits and wrong ideas of life's battle, he has become puny, rheumatic, short of wind and diseased. If he continues to take all his exercise in an automobile for the next decade, he will be without sufficient leg-sustaining power for any distance.

We must begin to climb up the health ladder. In the following article, I will try to show you some ways of cultivating clean blood.

Safety First in Schools

Santa Barbara News

Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce has sent out a circular in which he calls upon the public school superintendents of the country to co-operate with the department in an educational campaign in the schools to teach safety first.

The secretary points out that the education committee of the National Education association has stated that as accidents are primarily the result of ignorance, the success of any safety movement is dependent upon education. The committee says that approximately 6000 children of school age and under are killed by automobiles every year.

The circular calls attention to the fact that in the schools of San Francisco, Chicago and Los Angeles considerable progress has been made in teaching the children caution in crossing streets particularly through the use of the older boys as traffic aids during the school rush hours.

The little ones are learning to follow the traffic lines laid down for them at "school crossings." They appreciate that at those crossings they have the right of way and few automobile drivers ignore their claim.

Although the campaign to educate the children to guard against automobile accidents has been in progress only a short time "excellent progress has been made. This success holds out the hope that the children themselves may become a most important factor in reducing the death list which now is appalling.

The question arises: If this can be accomplished with children, is it not possible to apply the same principles to the children of larger growth? The school campaign might be used to advantage in dealing with adults.

A BEAUTIFUL STORY

A beautiful story, all painted in words;
And softly enjoin as the colors that end
The lines faintly drawn, unobtrusively blend,
The rainbow's sojourn in the heavenly sky.
The wording, like brush marks unconsciously seen,
Are felt as the dream of the author unfolds.
Afar in the distance, the reader beholds,
A faintly wrought picture which comes as the glow
Above the gray mountains, when morning appears.
We live it and love it and cry with its tears—
We walk in its shadows and play in its light:
So natural the changes that slowly emerge:
Developing out, as the bud of a rose,
We know not the motion nor see when it grows,
'Til blossoms the climax, the story sublime.

This place called Ur, where archeologists are digging, sounds as if they couldn't think of the name of the town.

We are living in hopes Painleve steps out of the French government so we can make a wild pun on his name.

It really was very sweet of Cuba to produce 150,000 tons of sugar this season.

Little Benny's
Note Book

by Lee Pope

I was coming home from supper and I saw some people standing around watching some man trying to see why his automobile wouldn't go, with it kept on not doing the more he did to it with a punky wrench and different things, being a skinnier looking man with a long neck; and some fat man with a brown derby and a green tie sed, maybe your old boat needs gas, brother.

No, I'm sure it don't, because I just had her tank filled up, your about the 5th persin that bin kind enuff to suggest that, but your all rong, the skinnier man sed.

And he kept on looking in the automobile's works and touching different things in there, and some man with a little red mustash came up saying, How about gas, brother, maybe she's out of gas.

The skinnier man jest giving him a farsee look without saying anything back, and then he got underneath the automobile's feet ferst to see if he could do anything under there, and jest then pop came up on his way home, saying, Wats all the excitement, Benny, is he trying to run over himself with his own car?

No sir, it wont go and he's trying to make it, I sed, Maybe it needs gasoline and he dont know it, wy dont you ask him, pop? I sed.

I bleeve I will, it was very brite of you to think of it, pop sed, And he sed out loud, I say, brother, has it occurred to you that you mite be out of gas?

With the skinnier man stuck his hed out from underneath the automobile saying, Go on home were you belong and were somebody mite be glad to see you, and dont you call me brother either, you poor bonehead.

And he stuck his hed back agen as if he thawt he was a tertle, and me and pop started to go home, pop saying, Benny, did you by any chance have any ideer anything like that would happen?

No sir, G wizz pop, how could I? I sed, and pop sed, Well, never mind, its merely a suspicion and its a good thing for you I cant prove it.

Wich it properly was.

THE SECRET

A quiet little whisper was borne upon the breeze;
It almost lost its music when tangled in the trees.
But only my listening heart heard its music soft and low,
And oh my waiting soul heard—'twas meant that I should know.
You love me, love, love me! You told it to the breeze;
It sang the message to me as it romped among the trees.
And now that all the leaves know and all the branches too,
They tell my lovely secret no matter what I do.

The pepper branches nod it, the orange blossoms smile;
The oak trees and the sycamore, they whisper all the while.
The eucalyptus branches sway gently to and fro—
You love me, love me, love me, and the whole wide world will know!

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

Away back in the ages when we who dwell in the Little Gray House were many miles from California and many years from grown-up land, there was a dear and loyal old soul whom we loved as we did any other member of the family—Uncle Stephen—very, very old, very, very black, very, very white-haired, and very, very gentle. Always were his pockets filled with wintergreen lozenges for my special delectation, and always when other friends forsook us and a spanking seemed inevitable, did Uncle Stephen intercede and help clear away our troubles.

And for the sake of that one loyal old dorkie who disdained freedom because he could only belong with his own folks after all, every stiff and rheumatic, white-haired old dorkie in the world is an object of friendly solicitude to me. So it was with a degree of anger that I watched an episode this morning, wherein a bus driver on one of the city routes, and an old colored man figured.

He was quite clean and tidy, that old uncle, but his movements were somewhat crippled, probably with "rheumatiz." However, he had ample time to cross the street, and so over he went. But the driver saw him and saw at the same time an opportunity to be "funny." So he speeded up—amazingly, especially in view of its being an intersection. He was exceeding the city's traffic laws, but more than that, he was exceeding a law of courtesy. For that poor old crippled colored man had to run madly for his very life.

We were sorry to see it. Courtesy is a very beautiful thing no matter to whom it is offered. And just so surely, discourtesy is very, very ugly.

A STORY AND A SONG

It was such a pretty little story that one of our contributors told us. She is a great admirer (who is not?) of Madame Manuela Budrow, the "Spanish Nightingale," and has learned that the singer excels in cookery as she does in song. Once upon a time some dainties of her concoction found their way to the breakfast tray of the teller of the tale, Mrs. Frances Stone, whose verse so often appears in the QUILT. In acknowledging the kindness, Mrs. Stone wrote a bit of verse which quite delighted Madame Budrow. When she again sent something for the delectation of the writer, she said she hoped it would merit another song. It did, and here is the song. We know you will enjoy it.

TO MADAME MANUELA BUDROW

A mocking bird was singing away up in a tree,
A joyous, happy mocking bird as one could plainly see.
His song was just a medley, with many notes so high
He took them winging upward and spilled them in the sky.
Then he came dropping down again and on a branch he sat
To flick his tail and preen his wings—with one eye on the cat.

A song came floating on the air, so soft, so sweet, so clear—
And straight that saucy little chap stopped all his noise to hear.
He eyed me with a questioning look; I said, "Your reign is o'er
For we prefer the singing bird, who sings for us next door.
Move on, you saucy mocking bird, your every charm will fall
To help you win one silvery note from our Frances Stone."

—FRANCES STONE.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 10—POUCHER PELICAN IN TROUBLE

"My! My! My! Somebody's in a hurry," cried Doctor Bill as someone went tap, tap on the front door of his hospital.

Nancy opened it as quickly as she could, and in walked Poucher Pelican, none other, his fat tummy wobbling as he walked, and his market basket tucked under his chin.

"Why how do you do, Poucher?" the little bird doctor said hospitably. "I haven't seen you for a blue moon. How are you? You're looking fine."

Poucher never answered a word. He just stood there like the Statue of Liberty and never made a sound. "Aha! Lost your voice, have you?" cried Doctor Bill. "You must have caught cold and it's settled on your lungs. Is that it?"

Poucher shook his head sadly. "No? Well that's funny!" The last time I saw you you were teaching your children how to swim out into the water and catch fish until their bill pouches were full. Then they would come back onto the shore and eat them. The fish, I mean, not the bill pouches."

Poucher Pelican nodded. He seemed to remember it, too! It was one time when a shark had chased him—and he never tired telling his friends about it. He always added that it was the only time he had seen a fish too big to eat.

For Poucher Pelican's throat stretches like rubber. Indeed, if it didn't sound simply terrible, one might say that he had a regular rubber neck.

But now he didn't even smile at his own joke. He just stood there like a gas-pump and never said a word or moved.
Doctor Bill looked puzzled. "Not deaf, are you, Poucher?" he asked.
The pelican shook his head "no." "Oh! Blind?"
Again "no."
"Just dumb!"
The pelican nodded.
"Well, that's too bad. I'll have to find out what causes it. Open your mouth, please."

And what do you think! Just as the pelican opened his mouth, the bird doctor saw the end of a fish's tail disappear from view.
Poucher gave a gulp and drew a long breath. "Oh!" he said. "Oh! That feels fine. I nearly choked to death, so I did. I guess you punctured him."

"What!" cried Doctor Bill and the Twins all together. "Who?"
"Why you see," said Poucher. "It was a balloon fish. If I'm quick I can catch them and swallow them before they blow themselves up. But this one was too quick. He was just half way down my throat then he filled himself up with wind—and there he stuck, and I couldn't get him either up or down. I thought I was going to choke to death."

"Then you won't need any pills," said Doctor Bill kindly.
"No," grinned Poucher. "If anybody needs pills, it's the fish. I feel kind of sorry for him."
